BRITISH GOV'T. SHIFT RUMORED

Reports Increase That Attlee Will Step Out in Favor of Bevin.

By International News Service

LONDON, Aug. 28 — Speculation on an early reshuffle of the British Labor government mounted today following the most bitter press criticism yet delivered on Britain's economic crisis.

Newspapers assailed the government's "siege economy" measures announced last night as inadequate, ineffectual and dictatorial.

Reports which conservative quarters claimed are factual—but not admitted at No. 10 Downing street — said Prime Minister Attlee will step down in favor of Foreign Secretary Bevin "at the first favorable opportunity."

These reports received a certain amount of credence in non-cabinet Labor circles.

Vague on UN Meeting

A foreign office official said that although Bevin officially heads the British delegation to the United Nations general assembly he can not state that the foreign secretary will be present when the conference convenes in New York Sept. 15.

Conservative informants claimed that Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, had been offered the top government post but was compelled to turn it down because of ill health.

Morrison, they said, agreed, however, to remain as the Labor party's leader in commons and lord president of the council under Bevin.

Informants added that Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, already has agreed to replace Hugh Dalton as chancelor of the exchequer.

Among those whose careers are said to be in jeopardy are Aneurin Bevan, minister of health, and F. J. Bellenger, secretary of state for war.

The Conservative spokesmen claimed that Foreign Minister Bevin has told intimate friends that he will make the "speech of my life" before the trades union congress at Southport Wednesday.

It is regarded as significant that Bevin is taking an increasing part in domestic affairs. He is terminating his vacation tomorrow to return to London. This is being done obtensibly to be in readiness for another cabinet emergency session next week.

Press Fires Salvo

The British evening papers took up the fierce denunciation of the Labor government.

The London Evening Standard scathingly referred to "this slave state."

The morning newspapers began the barrage against the government's edict reimposing wartime curtailment of food, gasoline and foreign travel.

Sharp editorials assailed Prime Minister Attlee's two-year tenure, with the Daily Express headlining its comment:

"Less — Less — Less."

The Express pointed out that the edicts announced last night do not amount to much against the great "yawning gap of deficit."

The London Times opened its blast with:

"Never has a ministry fallen so far short of pent-up expectations on so many successive occasions as Attlee's government."

"Keep Prices Down And Hemlines Up," Angry Women Cry

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 28—"Shouting "keep prices down and hemlines up," Louisville's "Little Below the Knee Club" staged a downtown rally last night and, with a men's auxiliary, declared war on new fashions which call for longer skirts.

A cheering, whistling crowd listened to spokesmen who advanced several arguments for maintaining present hemline lengths.

It was the concensus that:

▶Women should not allow Paris to dictate styles.

▶Clothing manufacturers are trying to "hoodwink" women into buying new styles.

▶Long skirts are neither attractive nor comfortable.

Mrs. Belle Evans, club chairman, had this to say about long skirts: "You can't walk in them, also, they take too darn long to iron."

And W. H. Anderson, spokesman for the men's auxiliary, wanted to know why American women should have styles "forced upon them that they do not personally want."

Mrs. Neale Cox, who led the rally, said 1,265 Louisville women already had promised to keep the "status quo" of the hemline, and urged that neighborhood clubs be formed.

The death toll estimate, the council said, applies only to immediate traffic fatalities and does not include persons who die later from injuries suffered in accidents during the three days or deaths from other types of accidents.

Pope, Truman Exchange View

Agree Moral Forces of World Must Press for Lasting Peace.

By The Associated Press

ROME, Aug. 28—In an exchange of letters made public today, President Truman said the world's moral forces must unite against those who "seek to destroy them," and Pope Pius XII replied that peace was jeopardized by nations which would reduce men to serfdom.

The exchange was made public by the Vatican and the office of Myron Taylor, presidential representative to the Pope. The Pontiff received the President's letter from Taylor in an audience Tuesday and replied the same day.

"I seek to encourage renewed faith in the dignity and worth of the human person in all lands," President Truman wrote. "The times demand faith that is strong enough to struggle, if need be, for the right."

Hits State Supremacy

The Pontiff's reply said:

"Once the state, to the exclusion of God, makes itself the source of the rights of the human person, man is forthwith reduced to the condition of slave; of a mere civic commodity."

The Pontiff pledged "whole-hearted cooperation from God's church" in championing "the individual against despotic rule; the laboring man against oppression; religion against persecution."

Mr. Truman's letter, dated Aug. 6, declared:

"Unless the moral forces of the world now join their strength, discouragement must inevitably deepen, and the strength and effectiveness which thereby would be lost by these moral forces would be gained by those forces which oppose and seek to destroy them."

The Pope's letter, dated Aug. 26 from the pontifical summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, said:

"We hasten to express our satisfaction and thanks for this latest testimony to the desire and determination of a great and free people to dedicate themselves to the noble task of that peace for which all peoples of the earth are longing."

Praises Charity

"The munificent charity shown by the American people to the suffering and oppressed in every part of the world x x x is a fair token of their sincere desire for universal peace and prosperity. The vast majority of the peoples of the world, we feel sure share that desire, even in countries where free expression is smothered.

"God grant their forces may be united towards its realization."

The President, declaring that "the tasks now confronting us are formidable," said:

"I am privileged to pledge full faith to you once again to work with Your Holiness and with every agency of good the world over for an enduring peace."

Galion Firm Acquires Plant in St. Louis

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — Hercules Steel Products Corp. of Galion, O., will acquire the Star Mfg. Co. of St. Louis, about Oct. 1, it was announced yesterday.

Star Mfg. Co. is a fabricator of restaurant kitchen equipment and popcorn roasting machinery. David Van Alstyne Jr., Hercules chairman who announced arrangements for the purchase, said it would provide further diversification of the Hercules line of products, which includes truck bodies, hoists, coal loaders and metallic burial vaults.

BOARD SAYS NO REWARD OFFER

Commissioners Believe Gerbes Murder Case Fund Would Be Criticized by Public.

The Marion county board of commissioners said today they had definitely decided not to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Mrs. Zora Gerbes.

They said they felt they would be subjected to public criticism if they offered public money for this purpose.

The decision against the reward was made this morning after another request by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer that the county put up at least $500 to spur the hunt for the slayer.

Board members did not explain the nature of the "public criticism" except to say that in private conversations a number of persons had told them they were opposed to offering a reward.

They expressed the opinion persons they had talked with seemed to hold the view the man accused of the slaying is now out of the county and that it would be foolish to spend money to bring him back.

They had no comment when asked whether they thought $500 might not be a low price to pay for the protection of society generally against a man accused of brutally slaying a woman in this community and who might commit a similar crime in another.

The commissioners also said they had no money appropriated for the purpose of offering rewards for the apprehension of criminals. In renewing his request for a reward in the Gerbes case the sheriff asked the board to use the unneeded $500 put up by the commissioners for the arrest of the supposed kidnapers of Carolyn Peterson, who was found last Saturday night.

TRUMAN PLANS TRIP TO BRAZIL SUNDAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Bolo knives and carbines were added to the equipment of the new White House plane "Independence" today as the secret service completed preparations for President Truman's flight to Brazil.

Last night's announcement that the Chief executive will leave Sunday for Rio De Janeiro to address the inter-American defense conference put an elaborate protective pattern in force.

Part of the flight will be over Brazil's formidabe jungle.

Hence, with an eye to any eventuality, the secret service ordered the bolo knives which are designed for whacking a path through jungle growth and the rifles for protection against animal life as well as hostile tribesmen. The plane also will carry parachutes.

Mr. Truman's black, bullet-proof limousine and a heavy armored secret service car long since have been on their way by boat to the Brazilian capital for use during the President's six-day stay there.

Riding the new, blue-eagled DC-6 for the first time, the President will leave Washington at 8 a. m. Sunday, planning to arrive in Rio the following afternoon after an overnight stop at Trinidad.

He will address the conference Tuesday and remain until Sunday to take part in the celebration of Brazil's 125th anniversary of independence.

The return to the United States will be aboard the battleship Missouri, with a possible stop at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

War Babies To Push Ohio's First Grade Roster To 128,000

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28—The advance guard of a generation of "war babies" to enter school next week is expected to swell Ohio's first grade enrollment to 128,000, Walton B. Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education association said today.

Bliss said, however, that this host of first grade elementary pupils would be only a sample of what the next few years, with a rapidly rising birth rate, would bring to Ohio elementary schools.

The biggest problem facing most school authorities, Bliss said, has been to secure enough qualified elementary teachers.

Pointing out the acuteness of the elementary teacher shortage in metropolitan areas, Harold J. Bowers of the department of education said the housing shortage has been a complicating factor.

Bliss said the increased elementary enrollment would have a bad effect on the educational opportunities of both elementary and high school students. He added that the shortage of building materials and high costs have made it impossible to carry out many proposed school building expansion programs.

COOLER AIR MOVES INTO MIDWEST TODAY

By The Associated Press

Cooler air moved into the midwest today after a slight warmup yesterday which caused some apprehension among heat-weary residents.

The Chicago weather bureau said a cold front was moving across southern Iowa this morning and pushing southward and eastward. Somewhat cooler temperatures were reported over Minnesota, northern Iowa, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Michigan and was due to move into Illinois and Indiana this afternoon.

No sudden drop in temperatures accompanied the cool air, and a weather bureau spokesman said it "won't be so much cooler, but it will keep us from getting hot."

POLICE CATCH MARION YOUTH

Recaptured with Two Other Fugitives from Mansfield Reformatory.

Escape of Harold Walker, 19, of Marion and two other Mansfield reformatory prisoners was disclosed today with the recapture yesterday of the trio in a running chase in Chillicothe, The Associated Press reported.

Walker was sentenced to a one to seven-year term last March 5 in Marion county common pleas court in the theft of $1,400 from an automobile parked at the Central Junior High school grounds by Francis McKinney.

The fugitives, in addition to Walker who surrendered to deputies Fred Bouillion and Clinton Claytor after being chased through Chillicothe by police, highway patrolmen, and other deputies, gave their names as:

Roy Lee Hardwick, 21, of Anderson, Ind. who had been sentenced on auto theft charges.

Edwin Winstead, 22, of Hamilton.

City Patrolman Arthur Fout of Chillicothe started the hunt for the three when he noticed them driving a car which had been reported stolen in Richland county, where the reformatory is located.

They tried to elude him by driving into the grounds of the Chillicothe Paper Co., and abandoning the car in a storage building, but Fout and other officers picked up the trail and followed them to the open field where they gave up their flight.

At Mansfield reformatory officials said the three disappeared from a work gang on the institution farm outside the walls about 4:15 p. m. yesterday. They apparently got away under the cover of the high corn in the fields, it was said.

Hardwick was serving a one-to-20 year sentence. Winstead was sentenced to one to 10 years from Butler county.

N. Y. Governor Takes Unequivocal Stand at Formal Start of Convention.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—American Legionnaires filed by the thousands into flag-draped Madison Square Garden today for the opening of their 29th convention as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey unequivocally endorsed universal military training.

Dewey, 1944 Republican presidential candidate and a possible candidate for the nomination again, came out for military training in a speech prepared for delivery before the convention, which he released two hours before the convention opening time of 11:30 a. m. The Legion has long endorsed universal military training.

"It is our duty," Dewey said, "to provide a program involving participation by all able-bodied young American men under universal military training."

First Definite Stand

It was the first indication by Dewey of his stand on the controversial subject. Dewey has never announced his 1948 candidacy and has been silent on a number of domestic and foreign issues.

The G.O.P. 1944 standard bearer also said that "for the defense of the peace we must maintain a permanent military establishment adequate to the defense of this country at all times and also sufficient to perform our obligations to the united nations."

Dewey said that "the hard fact is that genuine peace seems further away than ever" and added that "we are witnessing on the world scene conditions which are hauntingly like those which followed the first World War."

The Republican party's titular leader declared "We must honestly face up to the facts and know where the dangers are. Everyone knows that there is now a movement" which is advancing an ambitious, well-organized program to undermine and then overthrow the free societies of the world."

"Many Have Fallen"

He added that "we have seen nation after nation crumble before it. We see its active revolutionaries in our own hemisphere and here in the United States we find its organs of propaganda and its tightly organized agents, vastly more powerful than their numbers, using fellow travelers in every walk of life."

Dewey said the American Legion "as a group, have long and vigorously fought this menace of Communism."

He declared it was possible for the United States to live in peace with any nation but added:

"It is fundamental that every nation respect the rights of other people to freedom and self-government. It is also fundamental that no nation has a right to conspire to overthrow the government of any self-governing people."

"Road to Peace Is Hard"

The road to peace, Dewey said, "is not easy. It is not a road of self-indulgence, of unpreparedness or of weakness. It is not

FOOD ESTIMATE SEEN IN ERROR

European Black Market Called Stumbling Block to Accurate Survey.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — Black market operations make it "difficult, if not impossible," for European nations to survey their food resources accurately, an agriculture department report contends.

The document, bearing a "confidential" label, was prepared for a congressional investigating committee which called for Europe yesterday to make a first-hand study of foreign needs.

It provides a country-by-country summary of food and agriculture conditions throughout western Europe based on "the latest information available."

The foreword, however, says the report has been classed as confidential because "the production figures * * * for some countries will agree with the official estimates supplied by the minister of agriculture."

No Countries Named

No countries in this category were listed by name. But the report itself says that throughout Europe "government intervention is general, in the production, collection and distribution of most agricultural products.

"This intervention has been linked with a system of compulsory farm collections and fixed prices to farmers. * * *

"Because of the shortages of food, this sytem of distribution has made it profitable for farmers in most countries to market any surplus products through black markets.

"It has encouraged farmers to understate their production in order to reduce the quantities which they must deliver to the government and leave them additional quantities which they can dispose of more profitably.

"Makes Estimate Difficult"

"This bias in production estimates makes it difficult, if not impossible, for governments to estimate accurately their domestic food output."

Even the figures submitted to the international emergency food council (IEFC) probably are inaccurate in some cases, the report declares.

This is true because, since the IEFC apportions food supplies on a basis of need rather than ability to pay—"it is in the interest of countries to report their production as low as possible."

The report was prepared by the agriculture department's office of foreign agriculture relations at the specific request of Rep. August H. Andresen (R - Minn). Andresen is chairman of a subcommittee of the 19-member special house committee on foreign aid headed by Rep. Herter (R-Mass).

In the Kentucky mountains the flight of a bird into a house is considered a bad luck omen.

REASONABLE EUROPE AID PLANS DESIRED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The sixteen nations drafting a blueprint for Europe's economic recovery received official American advice today that to win United States' acceptance the plan must be both reasonable and realistic.

Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett coupled this admonition with the further stipulation that demands on American aid must diminish by next year.

Lovett tossed out these additional ideas as the Paris conference on the Marshall plan neared a deadline for final estimates on what American assistance Europe must receive to regain its economic health:

1. This government is more interested in a plan of self-help and mutual aid which will really work than in the dollar estimate of costs.

He left unanswered a question whether the state department deems too high the calculation reportedly reached at Paris that Europe will need $29,000,000,000 or more from the United States over the next four years.

2. In screening the estimate before submitting them to congress for approval, American officials will give first consideration to needs at home.

3. The United States is ready now to extend friendly aid at Paris in completing the European estimates, although until now American officials on the scene have kept hands off.

Two top state department experts, George F. Kennan and Charles Bonesteel, are enroute now to Paris to advise William L. Clayton, undersecretary of state, and Ambassador Jefferson Caffery.

Ohio Museum Party Finds Indian Relics In Delaware County

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Aug. 28—Indian relics unique in the region have been uncovered near the site of the Delaware dam by an archaeological field party from the Ohio State museum, officials of the Ohio State Archaeological society reported Wednesday.

A series of food storage pits filled with refuse from an Indian village or camp were uncovered after six weeks of digging on the Walter S. Cole farm about five miles north of Delaware at Marlboro.

The pits contained charcoal, animal bones, snail and mussel shells, fire cracked stones, burnt clay, a hammer stone which bore evidence of considerable use and part of an adult male skeleton.

Society officials theorized the camp existed in prehistoric times. Identity of the Indians who dwelt at the site and relationship of the relics to other archaeological finds of the period will be determined in studies to be made at the museum where the material will be shown later.

Richard G. Morgan, archaeological curator of the museum, led the expedition assisted by Raymond S. Baby, department of anatomy, Western Reserve university, Cleveland.

MEADVILLE, Pa.—Trousseau may be a French word, but just try to purchase one if you can talk little English and only French. Miss Else Rehrl, of Leroiville, France, had that experience when she arrived in this country to marry Mike Olynik of Cambridge Springs, an ex-sergeant. But it all worked out when finally she met Mrs. Frank B. Kunselman, a French war bride of World War I. With Mrs. Kunselman doing the talking and Miss Rehri the selecting, the trousseau was purchased.

It is popularly believed in Holland that where the stork nests no fire will come.

Addie Bain, 90, Decides It's Time To Give Up Interest in Rat Trap He Invented at 65

Addison Bain of 182 Wallace street, well-known Marion resident, is about to give up one of his many interests.

A number of years ago Mr. Bain designed a circular rat trap with a simple setting device that presents no danger to the fingers of the trapper. He has been making and selling the traps for years but due to failing health he is now offering his plans and present stock of traps for sale and will make no more.

Mr. Bain for years took an active part in community affairs, was the first park superintendent here, served as health officer for almost 10 years and also was township trustee for a number of years. He is now a few months past 90 years old and is still active.

When showing his circular rat trap, Mr. Bain also remarked about another use for which the traps were often used. He said that when at a loss to furnish amusement for small children visiting the Bain home, he would set the trap, furnish rubber balls to the youngsters and instruct them to roll the ball in such a way to hit one of the hooks which released the wire frame He said the children would be amused for hours trying to trip the contraption

An avid fisherman, Mr Bain has been going to Michigan for the past 46 years without missing at least one trip a year He just returned from one fishing trip but stated it was a little too early in the season for good fishing.

Another of his interests is a collection of more than 100 guns. Almost every kind of gun can be seen in the glass case from a small pistol about four inches long to muzzle-loaders which are almost five feet long All are in excellent condition and each has a history. Mr Bain said he had purchased only about two of the guns in the collection, the others had been given to him by people who knew of his interest. Several of them were used in the battle of Gettysburg during the Civil War. Each is tagged with a number and listed in a book which Mr. Bain keeps with the name of the person who gave the gun to him.

In a final reference to his Sure-Catch traps, Mr Bain said with amusement that there was nothing to wear out on the traps and he had caught a rat just last night in one he made more than 20 years ago

Foreign Fliers Wax Enthusiastic About Yankee Helicopters

By The United Press

CAMDEN, N. J.—The U. S war-developed helicopter will soon be fluttering over dozens of foreign lands judging from the number of international visitors taking pilot lessons here at central airport, site of one of the nation's three helicopter training schools

The student pilots, representing Canada, France, Holland and several South American countries, are being instructed by the Helicopter Air Transport Co. All have indicated they plan to operate the tricky but useful craft when they return to their homeland.

Three pupils from Argentina say they will take American helicopters with them when they return home and will teach others to fly. They say nothing but a helicopter could take safely and quickly a group of oil hunting engineers into the wilds of a South American jungle.

While numerous foreigners are being trained by HAT, dozens of air-minded citizens of the U. S. also are being graduated. The present class includes Mrs. Olyve Johnson, Gainsville, Ga, who will be the world's second woman helicopter pilot when she graduates. The first also was trained by HAT.

Edouard Lecour, a pioneer French pilot with more than 6,000 transport flying hours, says he is interested in the crop-dusting aspects of the new windmill-type aircraft, as is Mrs. Johnson.

Both assert that the helicopter has no peers as a crop-duster and enthusiastically point out there is practically an unlimited field for its use.

"Okay, Charlie," the judge said, "since you were sidetracked, I'll provide you a detour for 60 days"

More Money and Dignity Mark 1947 "Miss America" Contest

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. [illegible]—The Miss America pageant, the nation's contest to select the perfect girl of beauty and brains, has experienced a face-lifting in money and dignity.

For the girl who will succeed Marilyn Buferd of Los Angeles as "Miss America," there will be a [illegible] scholarship to any school of her choosing. Another $20,000 in scholarships will go to the 14 runners-up.

The extra money this year was contributed by sponsors of local contests in 41 states, 12 cities and Canada. Pageant entrants already have collected a total of $22,000 in scholarships.

Added dignity came from the type of sponsors. No longer are the girls selected from smoke-filled honky-tonks, or just for the way they fill out a bathing suit.

Civic Groups Select

The 54 girls coming to the boardwalk and huge convention hall next week were selected in contests sponsored by Junior Chambers of Commerce, by colleges, newspapers and radio stations.

Says Pageant Director Lenore Slaughter:

"This will be the finest, most elaborate pageant we've ever had. The stage settings will surpass anything in history. We've spent $9,000 this year for sets. The most we ever spent before was $2,500."

Girls from Montana, Wyoming and Idaho were selected on their college campuses. They will be chaperoned by the deans of women from the University of Wyoming, Idaho State college and Montana State university.

Largest in History

The pageant, which opens next Tuesday with a boardwalk parade and closes Saturday night with the selection of "Miss America, 1947," will be the largest since the contest began as a bathing beauty show in 1921.

Efforts to have entries from Mexico, Cuba, Argentina and other Latin American countries fell through, but Miss Slaughter has ideas along those lines for next year.

Unique in this year's pageant will be twin sisters, Dorothy Jane and Georgia Jean Cunningham. The 19-year-old blonds, named as the "Misses Chattanooga" and later as the "Misses Tennessee," tossed a coin to determine which would represent the city and which the state. Dorothy Jane drew the city.

Tallest girl in the contest is five feet, nine and a half inches high Marilyn Jane Davidson. Auburn-haired, 18-year-old Miss Davidson will wear the "Miss Los Angeles" ribbon. The shortest girl is "Miss Atlanta," five feet, two-inch, blond, 19-year-old Joy Smith.

35 College Students

Of the competitors 35 are college students. With few exceptions, the girls have voiced desire to study music, dramatics, dancing, singing, or modelling.

Each girl will compete in a bathing suit, an evening gown and in a talent exhibition.

Two states, Oregon and South Dakota, will be represented for the first time.

Miss Slaughter said the new "Miss America" would be the first to visit a foreign land. Shortly after her selection she will be a guest of the Mexican government for 10 days.

Traffic deaths in the United States have declined from about 29 per 100,000,000 motor vehicle miles in 1925 to less than 10 in 1946.

A Futile Argument

EDWIN L. JAMES, managing editor of The New York Times, has been engaging in correspondence with David Zaslavsky of the Moscow Pravda, one of the Soviet Press bellwethers. Their discussion concerns whether the American press or the Russian press is free.

"Let us get it straight," writes Mr. James. "In your country the government controls the press. That government reposes on the Communist party, numbering some three per cent of the population. You call that freedom. We do not our freedom of the press is not, as you imagine, a guarantee to newspaper publishers to print what they please. It is much more a guarantee to readers that they may read what they please. Stack that up against your press program of the papers printing what helps the party in power. There is all the difference in the world."

Brilliant and carefully reasoned as his arguments are, Mr. James never will convince Comrade Zaslavsky. His arguments never will see print in Russia. That's because the press there is "free" and not subject to the fallacious and tendentious reasoning of a capitalist economy.

Impasse at the Airport

THE jurisdictional union labor dispute has been extended to absurdity at New York City's new Idlewild airport where work has been delayed since June, 1945, while two unions argued over which had jurisdiction over laying telephone cables servicing the field. The job involves drawing cables through conduits to airport installations, a task which could be completed by a crew in a matter of days if the unions could agree on how the work is to be apportioned.

But they can't agree, with the result that, except for the cables, the airport is ready for use. Meanwhile, LaGuardia field has become dangerously congested. The situation has reached the point where Mayor O'Dwyer has decided the cables will be laid this week—one way or another.

Holding up a construction project more than two years is a testimony to obdurateness, little else. Surely in two years a workable formula could have been discovered if diligently sought. Now the unions face the choice of deciding what should have been decided two years ago or stepping aside and letting civil service workers do the job.

Red Label

IN the United States, in England, France and all countries where Communists are hopeful of eventual control, they are first and loudest to demand tolerance. In this country, for instance they bleat about civil rights as if those rights existed for their special benefit.

But in Russia, in Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Romania and all countries where Communists already have control, tolerance is contrary to party policy. In Bulgaria, now about to become a full-fledged Communist state, the Reds are conniving to get rid of their chief opposition, thus setting up the one-party dictatorship that's the objective of Communism everywhere.

This would confront the Bulgarians, some of whom turned to Communism because they believed it was a theory of social organization, with the grim, cold fact about Communism under Kremlin auspices—that it's not a theory of social organization at all but the practice of dictatorship concealed by a bright red label to keep saps from knowing what they're eating until it's rammed down their throats.

Don't Abandon Hope

THE part of the war fought in the South Pacific disposed forever of the notion that if things got too tough a man always could pass the rest of his life pleasantly on an island down there. But here is the Australian consulate reporting that so many American veterans want to move to Australia it can't find enough shipping space.

Moreover—and this is even stranger—Australia says it's happy about the whole thing and could furnish 100,000 jobs tomorrow if it could move the jobholders down under rapidly enough. In other words, there's still at least one place on earth where human beings are welcome— one place, that is, where human beings also want to go.

Perhaps Australia's location has something to do with it. When the harbingers of the atomic age usher in their high-percussion era with the next big round of explosions, it may seem hardly worth the effort to wipe out Australia along with all other centers of civilization. This could be changed, of course, if enough immigrants arrive meanwhile to make Australia a formidable power, or is that crossing a fission before it's reached?

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Lost Figure Found in Truman's Budget Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Mr. Truman found the lost figures in his fiscal midyear budget review. Although dollar value of business and income have been increasing since January, no one around the treasury has been able to find the figures showing how much this would increase receipts, and thus justify the Republican tax reduction. Inquiring reporters were chased off after wild gooseggs. When the June 15 quarterly income taxes came in to the treasury till, the Democratic actuaries should have been able to estimate immediately how much more money they would take in this present year than they had figured. But the Republican tax reduction bill was then under consideration in congress, so the actuaries just looked dumb, and pointed to the daily treasury statement, which is an unrevealing generalization of matters fiscal. By June 30, this statement showed receipts were actually down the first six months of this year over last, instead of up above the budget calculations. (See column dated July 9 for details.) Even at the fiscal yearend, Treasury Secretary Snyder merely estimated the surplus larger than expected for the closing year, and warned against tax reduction, as you will recall

By this little fiscal ruse, the Democrats caused the Republicans to use the six-month-old budget estimates of last January, which kept them on the defensive, and forced them to justify any tax reduction by the amount of economies they could make.

Do you catch on? The strategem is a little complicated. It had to be to fool the Republicans. But in the customary nutshell in use around Washington, the Democrats simply delayed acknowledging how much their receipts will be larger this fiscal year until the Republican were safely out of town, and all chance of tax reduction this year had passed.

Now Mr. Truman has found the lost figures. His receipts estimate, he concedes, will be $4 billion higher than he figured in January. His receipts he now puts at $41.7 billion; expenditures $37 billion; surplus $4.7 billion, all of which he wants to use for debt reduction apparently (suggesting his "right time" for the "right kind" of tax reduction will not come until after next June 30, when the presidential campaign starts.)

The general Truman midyear budget picture presents this nation as rich and powerful, much better off than expected, doing better business, its people earning larger incomes and all that. One significant figure he fails to mention, one of his own figures. In his economic review earlier, he predicted national income for this calendar year at $167 billion. His budget, he now says, will raise $41.7. Apply these figures to the same period, which is reasonable, and you will conclude the federal government is taking 25 cents of very dollar to be earned by its people. Roughly 25 per cent of the national income is to be taken by the federal government in taxes.

Some actuaries will wonder how rich a country really is which must contribute 25 per cent of earnings to the cost of government.

Spending More

Actually the Truman budget shows he has a new spending program 5 to 10 times larger than Mr. Roosevelt ever suggested (or performed). Mr. Truman is spending $10.4 billion for defense; $7.5 billion for veterans and $5.1 billion for interest (much of which is recaptured by taxation he does not estimate.) This is his spending program replacing the Roosevelt "relief."

Several flaws are apparent in the whole affair which make it somewhat academic, or certainly a subject for political rather than serious discussion. This "midyear review" is not in the middle of anything except politics. August is not the middle of the calendar year or the fiscal year. Indeed the fiscal year, with which it deals solely, is now only in its second month

Similarly it is founded on the declared assumption that prices, wages, business and the whole economy will remain where they are now until next June 30.

I will lay a little bet against the possibilities of such an unprecedented economic miracle.

We'd Better Keep Japan

By FRANK TRIPP

THE fear which caused most of Japan's trouble turns out to have been justified. Strangely enough the reality lands in our own laps. Russia has taken Manchuria bloodlessly, though as boldly as Japan took it in 1932. Now we begin to fear, as did Japan.

We became the remodelers of Japan's government and economy. Slowly but surely we are temporizing with Japan. We'll never forget Pearl Harbor but we are gradually becoming very pleased with ourselves over the way things are shaping up in Nippon.

We are heading into a program which will demand that Japan and Korea become our Pacific frontier against Communism—against Russia.

How can we escape permanent military interest in Japan and Korea without withdrawing our aggression against Communism to our own Pacific Coast?

If it is essential to sustain the backbone—and the belly—of Britain, France, Greece and Western Europe against the advance of Communism, is it not as essential that the plague be kept equally distant from our own western coast?

• • •

How could we justify chasing the wolf through the hills of Europe while he skulked across the Pacific and beset us from the Far East?

The people of our Pacific Coast are far more conscious of all this than we of the East. They have suffered and resisted invasions of Far Eastern peoples and philosophies throughout the past. We Easterners have been too adamant, altogether too disinterested in much of it. Now the chickens come home to roost. It was Japan. Now it's Russia.

• • •

Japan got into the better part of its mess by doing the very thing we may have to do.

For a century Japan feared Russia; as Russians, not as Communists. Forty-three years ago the Japs warred with Russia to drive them back from Port Arthur at Dairen—a port which Russia now questions our right to enter.

We sided with the Nips in 1904. Japan won. Russia retired to the north, went back home and into revolution. The peace treaty was written at Portsmouth, New Hampshire. We made big shots of the Japs, took them to our breasts, coddled and educated them. They learned fast, mimicked us, outgrew their tutor. That's when and how they got the big head that we finally had to blow off their shoulders.

• • •

Japan took over Kwantung and in 1910 annexed Korea outright. There remained the vast buffer state of Manchuria between Japan, Korea and Russia. Japan continued to fear and covet, steathily invade and politically corrupt China's most northern empire, the great Manchu nation, which for 200 years ruled all of China.

Japan concocted the Mukden incident of 1932. We wrote protesting notes, did no more. Britain did as little. That's when World War II really began.

• • •

Naively, wantonly, Japan took Manchuria, changed its name, set up a phoney government which we never recognized. We scoffed at their excuse; that it was to protect themselves against the invasion of Communism, which already had permeated Outer Mongolia and was creeping into northern Manchuria. We said it was outright imperialistic theft of a whole nation. I was there and saw it. I said so too.

While we remodeled Japan into some sort of misfit democracy, Russia slips down and takes complete possession of that same Manchuria, a country of 30 million people and rich resources. That was just what Japan all along had said they would do. Where do we stand now?

The north of Korea, "the dagger aimed at the heart of Japan," is Russia's, too. And we are the avowed enemy of that for which Russia stands.

• • •

All that is left between the Golden Gate and our most potential enemy is Pacific ocean, some islands and our erstwhile enemy, Japan.

Haven't we been suckers long enough?

By our standards we have Japan. Looks like that's all we can get out of the war.

We'd better keep it!

New Britith Plane Enters Trade Race

By The Associated Press

LONDON — Air Vice-Marshal Donald C. T. Bennett, executive vice president of British South American Airways, has announced that British aircraft builders, for the first time since the war, had evolved a plane able to compete with American-made Constellations and Skymasters (Douglas DC6's) in trans Atlantic service.

The new craft, an improved 32-passenger version of the A. V. Roe Company's four-engined Tudor, showed "only minor troubles" on a recent 12,000-mile test flight to the Caribbean, Bennett said.

Eisenhower and the Presidency

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE Republican party, in search of a candidate to defeat Harry Truman, will open its door wide to numerous aspirants for the presidency. It is polite, at this stage, for a candidate to avoid overt declaration of his hopes, unless he has none. The only really forward candidate is Harold Stassen. Taft, Dewey, Eisenhower, Vandenberg and others remain slightly coy.

Tom Dewey, who stands a fairly good chance of being nominated, took a westward-ho trip to visit his parents-in-law and his mother, to attend the governor's conference and to see the wild and woolly west. If, perchance, a political question arose, it was incidental and unrelated to the living or the dead. However, Mr. Dewey undoubtedly has a fair approximation of his strength and his weakness and knows pretty well what he needs to do to win. Senator Taft is about to take a similar trip.

The principal issue next year will be Robert A. Taft. No matter who runs, he will either become a defender of Taft, or Truman will back him into a corner. The candidate who will attempt to dodge the issue of Taft will have a tough time because what can he say about the Taft-Hartley act if he wants to omit consideration of Taft, for better or for worse? The Republican issue was made in the congress and there is no possible dodging that issue without strengthening Truman.

Lines Clearly Drawn

Thus, the platform has already been written and whoever is nominated by the Republicans must acept it as is, for no weasel words will change a syllable in the public mind. A single slighting of the Taft-Hartley act or the tax bills will defeat any Republican who runs for the presidency.

Nearly a year ago, non-chalantly I announced the candidacy of General Eisenhower for president. Some days later, a fine Washington correspondent reported that such announcements as I had made burned General Eisenhower up. Well, the general did not burn up seriously, for he is a candidate and has supporters. There is even a chance that he might be nominated. Any man can avoid being president by stopping a boom. Most men like booms.

The major difficulty of Eisenhower's candidacy is that nobody knows what he believes on any current question. Those who criticize Dewey for austere Coolidgian silence ought to look at Eisenhower's record. Maybe after he has become president of Columbia university he will deliver addresses here and yon on this and that, so that the public can get a picture of his mind. But up-to-date the record is blank.

His principal advocates among the Republicans take the position that he does not need to declare himself on any subject because he can be elected without even making a speech. They insist that only two generals have come out of the war with popularity of political magnitude, MacArthur and Eisenhower. They assume that MacArthur will not run and that therefore all the weather-vanes point to Eisenhower.

Where Does He Stand

That may be true now, but when the campaign is hot and the fight is furious, the candidate will be asked where he stands on the Taft-Hartley act, on the reduction of income taxes and on the price of steak in the super-market. He will have to answer or he will go the way of Landon, Willkie and Dewey in previous campaigns.

Furthermore, the Republican candidate will have to criticize Mr. Truman's conduct of the foreign affairs of the United States since V-J day. Just as Eisenhower would have to defend Taft on the domestic side, so he would have to attack Truman on foreign affairs. This Eisenhower could never do for he has been a party to all the raw deals that have been meted out to the United States since he went into partnership with the so-called peace-loving nations.

It would be wonderful if Eisenhower, as a candidate, spilled the beans which he, as an official, helped to gather. It would be an historically valuable incident. But it will not happen, for then Truman would ask, "And what were you doing and saying at the time, Ike?"

That's the trouble. Maybe that is why Eisenhower won't get it.

Columnist Sees Evidence of U. S. Kee Costs Up at Taxpayers' Expense.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The departme agriculture announced last week deta its support of the price of turkeys durin coming market season. It is already suppo the price of other farm products.

Last spring it supported the price of From time to time the department plans to port still other farm products. For pract every farm product, from wheat to peanuts government has a policy of price support mechanics to carry it out. "Support" means the price from going down; that is the pur

For that purpose the department is at moment buying potatoes in nine states— York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Mary Delaware, Rhode Island, Nebraska, Colo and Texas. The total bought this year so some six million bushels.

Neither the agriculture department nor government has any use for these potatoes are not bought for use, they are bought fo sole purpose of preventing the price from down. The potatoes are an embarrassmen the government or would be to any pr owner, for the government expects to lose on them, deliberately plans to lose money.

In the budget which the administration to congress each year for money to be ap priated is included millions of dollars for expected in keeping up the price of pota and many other millions for losses expecte other farm products. The loss expected on toes this year is about seven million do Doubtless the taxpayer ought to cheer—the suffered on potatoes last year was some eig eight million dollars.

For Children Only

By TRUMAN TWILL

A few days ago it was promised here that soon there would be something written just the kiddies—maybe an editorial about inte tional exchange. The idea was to prove tha editorial about international exchange coul written so a child could read it.

We are sorry. We tried. But the editorial ab international exchange was a flop. We coul even find out what international exchange and it's silly to describe a thing that canno described. So we will write about money stead—plain money.

Money is like playing a game with bottle where the ones there are most of are Coca-C and Pepsi-Cola, the ones there are next of are ginger ales and the ones there are most of are beers. And corks from whisky tles are most valuable of all. See, children?

No one knows what a ginger ale cap is wo except it is worth more than a Coca-Cola, than a beer and a lot less than a cork fro whisky bottle. So a kid with maybe five P caps can trade them in for 10 ginger ale and for 10 of those he gets one beer cap for 10 beer caps he gets a whisky cork. It co be either more or less, but that's the gen idea. See?

Then along comes a big kid from the block and says that from then on it's 10 C caps or Pepsi caps to a ginger ale, 10 gingers a beer, 10 beers for a cork. He says that's o and any kid who wants to get fresh can fig on having his teeth knocked in. He also that from then on, in return for making rules and knocking in teeth, he will take out of every ten caps and corks.

Everything is all right until the big kid takes the two out of every ten of everyth gets so many caps he doesn't know what to with 'em all and the other kids say he is sp ing their fun—him and his caps and corks he gets for nothing. So they get together lay for the big kid. They tell him they are g to throw him out of the game unless he th of something real quick.

The big kid thinks quick, all right. He around to the drug stores and bars and ge bushel of caps and corks that he hands out the kids. They think it's dandy but soon find that instead of 10 for 1 the new rule is 20 fo so they are no further ahead. Also the big is going to take three out of every ten as share for thinking up the change. So the k get tired of the game and throw away their and corks, which is the end of the game also the end of this editorial for children. It them all they'll ever need to know about mon except how to get more of it.

SPEED FLIERS SET FOR TRIAL

Weary Air Race Timers Called Out as Pilots Say They'll Try Course.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28—Timing officials at the National Air Races were called out early again today with the promise that a dozen pilots would try to qualify for the Thompson trophy, fastest closed course competition in the world.

The 300-mile race will be run Monday as the windup of a three-day speed program. The feature event carries $40,000 in prize money—nearly one-third of the total for 16 races.

4 Fliers Qualified

Only four fliers qualified their planes during the first three days assigned for that chore. Eighteen other planes were parked at the airport in various stages of readiness, and race officials were frankly weary of prodding the temperamental pilots into trying to beat the 5 p. m. deadline tomorrow.

The fliers were told again last night that the rules would be followed strictly. Eleven pilots immediately said they were ready to try two laps around the 15-mile course against time, and a couple of others said it was likely they would try today.

Those qualified thus far and their average speeds are Tony Levier of La Canada, Calif. 366.3 miles an hour; Paul Penrose of North Hollywood, Calif., 390.0; Ivis H. Hill of Houston, Tex., 356.6, and Ray Demming of Niagara Falls, N. Y., 366.8.

Others Prepared

Among those prepared for trial runs today were Jean L. Ziegler of Kenmore, N. Y., Charles C. Walling of Houston; Ray Eiche of Berea, O., Dale Fulton of Washington, D. C.; Kendall Everson of Cleveland; A. T. Whiteside of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and Woody Edmonnson of Lynchburg, Va.

Only the 12 fastest ships will start in the Thompson, but all entries are eligible for one of three races in which planes of the same make will compete on one of the three days.

Entrants in the Halle trophy race for women flying AT-6 Texans, a military trainer type, also must qualify, since only eight of the 13 entries may start in the Saturday event. Thus far only Jane Page (Mrs. Sonny Hlavacek) of Wilmette, Ill., and Anna Logan of Cleveland have qualified.

LEWIS-TRUMAN FEUD BREAKS OUT AGAIN

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—John L. Lewis was feuding with President Truman again today.

His United Mine Workers (AFL) journal leveled a torrid blast at Mr. Truman for his recess appointment of James Boyd of Colorado as director of the bureau of mines.

Boyd, whose nomination failed to get through the senate this year, took his oath of office as the $10,000-a-year director yesterday. He was given a recess job—which means the senate has to pass on him when it comes gack in January.

Lewis' bitter opposition was partly responsible for the senate's failure to act on the nomination at the last session.

"This time the President has gone out of his way once again to antagonize the men who man American coal mines," a UMW journal editorial declared. "Mr. Truman does not seem to have kept up with the records of recent mine explosions and severity of the disasters."

The Journal said Lewis opposed Boyd because he "knew nothing whatsoever about the coal industry."

The UMW organ blamed Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug for the recess appointment. It called Krug a "playboy with a squirt mentality and balloonized physique."

Krug hailed Boyd at his swearing-in yesterday as the "most competent man in the United States" for the job.

81-Year-Old Couple Begin Trip Across U. S. in '21 Model T

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 28—A red-wheeled, 1921 model T Ford chugged westward on its fifth trip across the United States with 81-year-old Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hielscher of Seattle, Wash., today.

They are headed for Springfield, Ill., where a spare tire and two extra tubes are awaiting them.

The car, which has 140,435 miles on it, was on blocks for nearly three years during the war.

"The ration board considered it an ornament, not a working machine and wouldn't give us any gas," Hielscher explained.

"We left Seattle in June, and our main object was Minneapolis for our 56th wedding anniversary in Minnehaha Falls park."

"We had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Hielscher. "There were 400 at the party and we had the whole park and bandstand for the afternoon. We wanted to go back there because the park was near where our fathers settled in the 1860's.

"That's the year when we were born," Hielscher explained, pointing to the "A-1866" license on the Model T. "We pay 25 cents a year to get that number."

Gilead, vocalist—Mrs. Salisbury's selections included "Clair de Lune," Debussy, "The Rosary," Nevin, "The Alpha Xi Sweetheart Song," and the traditional wedding marches. Miss McCutchen sang "Because," D'Hardelot, "Oh Promise Me," DeKoven, "I Love You Truly," Bond, and "I Love Thee," Grieg. At the close of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress of princess white jersey, styled with a high V-shaped neckline and cap sleeves. Two bands of four narrow strands of silver thread extended down the front of the bodice from the shoulders to the waistline in a cable pattern and formed circles on the short front peplum. The full skirt was gathered in soft folds, and the jersey belt tied in a front bow. Her shoulder length illusion veil fell from a white velvet tiara, trimmed with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a three strand pearl necklace, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Miss Jean Urbansky of Cleveland, a sorority sister and former college roommate of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a dress of ash rose crepe with blue accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Dean Longacre of Marion, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Merle Winters of Galion and Daniel Hickman of Fulton. They also lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wililams chose a navy blue dress of crepe with navy and white accessories. Mrs. Longacre was attired in a black crepe dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for 200 guests at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride's table, centered with a bouquet of white gladioli and daisies and lighted by tall white tapers, held a three tiered wedding cake, baked by her father. Her chosen colors, green and white, were carried out in the decorations. Assisting in serving were Miss Marjorie Ann Pippert of Vermilion, Miss Mary Beth Watchler of Lakewood and Miss Ardys Klann of Cleveland, sorority sisters of the bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Russel of Akron, Mrs. Mabel Harrison, Mrs. Nova Doyle, Mrs. Mary Salisbury and Miss Ilo Rice.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Longacre was wearing a green palm beach suit with brown accessories and her bridal orchid.

Mrs. Longacre was graduated from Caledonia High school in 1944 and attended Baldwin-Wallace college in Berea where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She was graduated from Marion Business college this summer. Mr. Longacre, a graduate of Iberia High school with the class of 1937, served 58 months with the U. S. Army, with 24 months of that time overseas. He is employed as a mechanic in Marion.

The couple will make their home in a newly furnished apartment in Caledonia.

Out-of-town guests were present from Cleveland, Akron, Martel, Galion, Fulton, Vermilion, Shelby, Mansfield, Logan, Xenia, Van Wert, Ohio City, Fort Wayne, Ind., Mt. Gilead, Lakewood and Parma.

Friday evening, the bride's parents entertained with a buffet luncheon at their home following the rehearsal. Miss Williams presented her attendant a silver bracelet and to her organist and soloist she gave silver earrings. Mr. Longacre gave his best man a tie ring, and the ushers, tie clasps. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Oleta Kightlinger of Caledonia and Mrs. Elizabeth Russel of Akron.

If you've stopped saving used fats, please read this message from Secretary of Commerce W. A. Harriman. "Not only the United States but the whole world still lacks adequate supplies of fats and oils. 35 LOSE LIVES IN AIR CRASH

27 Passengers, 8 Crewmen Killed in Norwegian Disaster.

By The Associated Press

OSLO, NORWAY, Aug. 28—A Norwegian Airplanes flying boat crashed in the Lofoten mountains today, killing all 35 persons aboard, the company announced.

The Sandringham flying boat carried 27 passengers and a crew of eight. It was enroute to Stavanger from Tromsoe when the crash occurred at 9:30 a. m., Greenwich mean time (4:30 a. m., EST).

The chief pilot, a Capt. Buer, was a distinguished Norwegion airman. Among the victims was the company's chief inspector, Jarle Ebbesen.

The big plane burned for several hours after it crashed.

Eyewitnesses said they heard an explosion echoing through the mountains as the plane plummeted through the fog and rain.

The airline said one American citizen, identified so far only as Mrs. Jess, was among those killed.

Two Czech journalists, Jan Reinis of the newspaper Svobodne Vovini and Tatjana Selingerova of the Narona Boroda, and a Dane, G. Heine, also were among the dead. The others were all Norwegians.

Dewey termed the United Nations as representatives of "the hopes and aspirations of all men and women of good will the world over." He added that "as a nation we must hope that prevention of aggression will make further strides in the meeting of the assembly immediately ahead."

The New York chief executive, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, paid tribute to both the nation's "two great political parties" for their "implementation of bi-partisan foreign policy."

Sideshows Steal Limelight

The 29th annual convention itself scheduled the big acts, but it brought with it plenty of sideshows—almost one on every street corner. The 40 and 8, Legion honor organization, continued its meeting, and the Legion auxiliary opened its separate convention this morning. Fifty founders of the Legion held their reunion last night.

The delegates in Madison Square Garden, before the opening convention session recesses late today for the 40 and 8 parade, will have heard from James Forrestal, secretary of defense; Field Marshal Viscount Harold Alexander, governor general of Canada; Fred M. Vinson, chief justice of the United States; Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.); Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Mayor William O'Dwyer, and others. President Truman was unable to attend.

Two Given Medals

Vinson and Martin were designated recipients of the Legion's distinguished service medals.

National Commander Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, Pa., will give a banquet tonight for the distinguished guests.

At least eight men already are seeking to win Griffith's post when new officers are elected at the closing business session Sunday. Action on resolutions also will come Sunday.

Saturday will be given over to the Legion parade on Fifth avenue.

The Legion's foreign relations committee report, which supported the Marshall plan for European aid, was approved by the Legion's executive committee.

"No Money in It," But Many Seek Legion Job

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—The job of national commander of the American Legion pays $10,000 a year salary plus $40,000 for expenses—but candidates for the 1947-48 term agree there's not much profit in it.

The national commander must spend up to $25,000 in campaign expenses and during his year tenure in office must visit with his staff every department in every state.

Profitable or not, there's no shortage of aspirants this year and most convention observers look for a political battle royal before the election Sunday of a successor to Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, Pa.

The principal candidates include:

Martin Coffey—51. From Middletown, Ohio. Sales manager for a building supply firm. Former Ohio Legion department commander. Served as sergeant in an artillery outfit in World War I. Married, has one son.

Auxiliary Urged To Rally Behind Peace Efforts

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — Mrs. Norton H. Pearl of Detroit, national president of the American Legion auxiliary, asked the auxiliary's 920,000 members today to "muster the mightiest influence our combined efforts can assemble on the side of peace and freedom."

In a speech to the auxiliary's opening convention session, she said "today the world stands confused at a crossroad, where one road leads to peace and freedom, the other to unimaginable horror of another war and universal dictatorship."

"The merest action, decision, influence" on the part of this nation's women, she added, "may turn the tide one way or another."

In another speech prepared for the opening session of the Legion later today in Madison Square Garden, Mrs. Pearl—only woman speaker on the program — said the auxiliary's membership had climbed from 800,000 to 920,000 during the past year and would reach 1,000,000 "in the near future."

Housing Quiz Jury Recalled

Sets Another Session After Handing Down 2 Anti-Trust Indictments.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — A federal grand jury which already has indicted two real estate organizations on anti-trust charges was called back into session today to dig deeper into the national housing price situation.

The National Association of Real Estate boards and the Washington Real Estate board were accused in indictments returned yesterday of conspiring to fix commission rates on property deals in the District of Columbia.

Word that the investigation is far broader, however, came from H. Clifford Bangs, former president of the Washington board. After appearing before the grand jury as a witness, he said transactions in such places as Chicago and California also are under study.

Act on Orders

The grand jury investigation began after Attorney General Clark ordered his anti-trust division to act against any conspiracies to boost housing, clothing and food prices. Commenting on the first indictments, Clark said in a statement.

"Our inquiry into the housing field indicates that artificial restraints on competition such as those involved in this matter, bear a definite relation to present high housing costs."

The indictment charges the national association's code of ethics requires members of local boards to charge commissions set by the local. It alleges that since February, 1943, brokers' commissions on sales of houses here have gone up uniformly 25 to 50 per cent, depending on the price classification.

At the same time the justice department filed a civil anti-trust suit against the two real estate organizations, 15 officers and members of the Washington board and Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the national association.

The department's petition asked the court to hold that any provisions of the constitution and bylaws for uniform commission fees are a violation of the Sherman act.

The national association, with headquarters in Chicago, has 28,000 members and is affiliated with 800 local boards. The Washington affiliate has about 250 members.

One Missing After Blast In Indiana Oil Refinery

WHITING, Ind., Aug. 28—An explosion rocked a portion of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana's plant early today, causing the company to lose 24,000 barrels daily capacity in processing crude oil, company officials said.

One worker, Julius Kopaz, 52, of Whiting was missing as firemen fought flames which at first were brought under control, then broke out again several hours later. Three workers, slightly injured, were given first aid treatment and returned to their jobs.

CURB RECKLESS FLYING

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Stimulated by mounting air traffic, at least 14 states this year tightened laws curbing reckless or drunken flying. Thirty-three or more states now have such statutes. The first offender under Minnesota's new law was fined $100 and costs recently for operating an aircraft in a "reckless and dangerous" fashion. Similar penalties are being reported from other states.

LATEST U. S. MOVE IN UN TIFF STUMPS DELEGATES

Suspicious Russia Sees Attempt to Eliminate Veto.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 28—A new United States maneuver in the United Nations veto battle had security council delegates frankly puzzled today.

Herschel W. Johnson, United States deputy, suddenly laid before the council late yesterday a two-page document tagged as "draft rules of procedure of the security council relating to voting, proposed by the United States."

After it had been batted around in solemn debate, Johnson finally said it was "just a ball tossed in the ring."

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia, a consistent defender of the veto and its greatest user, jumped into the fight immediately with a statement that he suspected the United States was trying to amend the UN charter.

It was evident that Gromyko felt the American paper was an attempt to dodge such questions as his veto on the proposed Balkans border watch commission—despite American insistence that there were no such "jokers" hidden in the document.

Such attempts, Gromyko warned, were foredoomed to failure.

Then Johnson answered that the U. S. points had been put forward only for discussion.

Statements Made by Both Company and Employes in McMillen Tieup.

In the first statement issued since the employes walked off their jobs last Thursday morning, the company takes its stand in the contract dispute with Local 750 of the AUW, giving in detail its side of the case and the alleged circumstances leading up to and contributing to the walkout.

Edward J. Duck, organizer for the UAW who has been conducting the UAW strike at the North Electric company at Galion and Mt. Gilead, in a statement to the press said McMillen Feed Company employes are objecting to work being done by another company in Marion aiding the strikebound McMillen plant. Duck also claimed that employes at McMillen have signed a petition asking for dismissal of Roy N. Lovett, personnel manager.

Company Statement

The company statement says that in March 1947 it entered into a contract with Local 750 of the UAW covering hours, wages and conditions of employment. The contract was duly negotiated and signed by both parties and, since its execution, employes have been receiving and have accepted benefits provided in the contract.

The statement further says that employes of the feed department walked off plant premises without filing a grievance notice in accordance with procedure specified in the contract. After employes had walked out the plant manager contacted the president of the plant union to determine the cause of the walkout. At this time a grievance was submitted to the management stating an employe had been discharged without representation by the union.

The employe, the company statement continues, had been with the company for only two weeks and said at a hearing attended by management and union executive committee members he was not able to perform part of the duties of the job for which he was hired and did not wish to continue work if these duties were part of his job. It was ultimately agreed by the employe to continue work, with management reinstating him and paying him for the balance of his day's work.

This difference being settled, the statement reports, the union executive committee presented two demands before permitting employes to return to work: (1) That the company pay all employes for the time they were out on strike, and (2) that the management agree to negotiate contract changes. The contract does not expire for approximately seven months, the company statement said.

The company has adopted the position, the statement concludes, that the rights of the parties are fully designed in the contract with which the employes have not complied, and the company has informed the employes committee that it is willing to resume operation whenever the men desire to return to work.

Union Allegations

Speaking for Local 750, Duck said union members claim work at another company is being done aiding the McMillen plant and is being done under protection of "extra help" employed as "bodyguards" where grain is being unloaded, they allege, for the McMillen Feed Mills.

Duck also said that 77 out of 85 employes at the McMillen company have signed a petition asking for the dismissal of Roy Lovett, the McMillen personnel manager. The UAW alleges that Lovett is attempting to break up their union. The union asserts that Lovett told Joseph Stafford, president of the McMillen unit of Local 750, that he would have the union "broke" before they got back in, and during negotiations told one of the men that the union was misrepresenting the facts to the people, that a wage raise was possible but that the union was keeping the employes from getting it.

Lovett today denied charges of union breaking, branding the allegations as "absolutely false."

Restrict Children In VA Hospital Visits

Children under 15 years of age are not permitted to visit patients on the wards of Veterans Administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky without permission of hospital authorities, officials of the VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus emphasized today The other applies to general medical and surgical, tuberculosis and neuropsychiatric hospitals

In the cases of neuropsychiatric patients, children under 15 are not permitted on the wards unless the visits are considered of therapeutic value in the treatment of the patients

GI Insurance Payable By Pension Deduction

Veterans may authorize the Veterans Administration to deduct National Service Life or U S Government Life Insurance premiums from their disability pension, compensation or officer retirement benefits which are paid by VA.

Insurance officials at the VA's Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky Branch Office in Columbus today explained that the deduction provision affords veterans receiving such benefits a simple and safe method for paying insurance premiums The amount of the benefits must be sufficient to cover the monthly premiums

Eligible veterans desiring to take advantage of the insurance payment plan should contact their nearest VA office

World War II veterans also are advised that they have until next Jan. 1 to reinstate GI insurance (term plan) without a physical examination by certifying they are in as good health as when their insurance lapsed and by payment of two monthly premiums.

Arts, Trades Offered Vets In VA Hospitals

Severely-disabled veterans confined to the nine Veterans Administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky are being taught a variety of arts and trades in a program designed to speed their rehabilitation and thus shorten their hospitalization

The program also has been made available to veteran-patients whose injuries or diseases have caused a chronic condition requiring repeated or continuous hospitalization.

In many instances, the arts or trades learned in VA hospitals will provide the veterans with an opportunity to contribute to their own livelihood after their recovery.

Known as the manual arts therapy program, the project is under way in VA hospitals at Cleveland, Brecksville, Dayton and Chillicothe, O; Ft Custer and Dearborn, Mich, and Lexington, Louisville and Outwood, Ky

The program is fitted to the requirements of each type of hospital, whether neuropsychiatric, tuberculosis or general medical and surgical. It also is fitted to the individual needs of patients

Among the training courses offered patients are woodcarving photography, printing, automotive repair, agriculture, engraving, metal work, general electrical work, jewelry, plastics and leather

This type of rehabilitation is available to all patients with the approval of their physicians.

The program is one of five phases of medical rehabilitation which has been developed in VA hospitals. The others are occupational therapy, physical therapy, corrective physical rehabilitation and educational re-training.

Questions and Answers

Q. I am a World War II veteran and work part time I intend to apply for readjustment allowance and would like to know how the amount I receive is computed.

A. As a partially employed veteran you can receive the maximum number of allowances to which the length of your service in the armed forces entitles you, but each weekly allowance would be reduced by the wages you receive so that readjustment allowance and wages combined will not exceed $23 a week. Each weekly allowance thus received, regardless of the amount of payment, would reduce by one the number of remaining payments available

Q. I was released from the Army with a bad conduct discharge and would like to know if I am entitled to any of the benefits under the GI Bill?

A. You should contact your nearest VA office for a decision as to whether you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable since that is the determining factor for entitlement to benefits

Q. Will the amount of compensation I receive for a service-incurred disability be reduced in event I find employment?

A. No Earnings from such work do not affect the amount of compensation received

Q. Is there any limit to the amount I can borrow under the GI Bill?

A. You can borrow any amount that the lender is willing to lend you, but VA will guarantee only 50 per cent of the amount up to $4,000 on real estate loan and up to $2,000 on a business loan.

Q. Why is it necessary to appraise a piece of property I wish to buy with a GI loan?

A The law requires that the purchase price paid or to be paid for property, or the cost of construction, alteration and improvements, must not be more than the reasonable value thereof

Conservation Work In Progress On Farm Near LaRue

Building terraces and waterways has been a conservation project the past week on the John T. McElheny farm a mile northwest of LaRue.

A part of the water disposal plan on the 160-acre farm, the terraces and waterways were designed and laid out by U. S Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the Marion County Soil Conservation District.

Flooding of crops and soil erosion on the farm's sloping land have been problems for several years, according to Mr McElheny. He explained that by being able to control the flow of water off the hills and conducting this excess water off the land in a definite channel he hopes to grow better crops and to stop the drowning out of crops on the flatter fields.

Maxwell S Bigham, U. S. Soil Conservation Service aid assigned to the Marion county district, has been assisting Mr. McElheny in laying out and supervising the construction of both types of soil and water conservation channels When completed, the farm will be veined by approximately a half mile of waterways and there will be a half mile of terraces This fall Mr McElheny plans to construct the main storm ditch with neighboring farms in an effort to prevent flooding of crops on his farm. Designed to remove surface water in less than 24 hours, the storm ditches will be seeded and maintained in sod

Both the terraces and storm ditches are being constructed with a farm tractor, two-bottom plow, and a rotary scraper.

STOCKHOLM — Swedes are sending their suits by air across the Atlantic to have them dry-cleaned in New York. There are two reasons for this seemingly round-about way. It takes less than a week to have a garment cleaned in New York, while in Sweden the minimum is two weeks. Also, despite the fact that the sender must pay air freight, the transaction is cheaper.

Employment Office Sees Need Of Jobs for Women Workers

Statistics in the Marion office of the Ohio State Employment Service indicate that a factory is needed in Marion to absorb an increasing surplus of female workers, according to Fred B. Scherff office manager.

The number of female workers seeking employment through the local OSES office has been increasing monthly from January, 1947, when 149 women were registered for employment. On Aug. 1 this number increased to 363, three times the number registered on that date a year ago. By contrast the volume of men applying for employment fell off 42 per cent during the past year to 374 as of Aug. 1.

Mr. Scherff stated that female opportunities are limited in Marion as the majority of industries being of a heavy nature make jobs unsuitable for female workers.

"If opportunities for female workers would present themselves, in addition to the 363 females in the active file, at least 500 additional female workers could be recruited with a minimum of effort within Marion county," Mr. Scherff said. These workers would not be available for employment outside the area because many are housewives or natives of Marion county and would not leave the area.

All Have Experience

Records in the Marion office of the OSES show that practically all of the women registered for employment have had some type of factory experience requiring the operation of light machine shop equipment or dexterity of fingers, due to the fact that these women were used during the period of hostilities in war-time establishments in the area which ceased operation at the close of the war.

Female employment in the 34 reporting industries has declined 6.4 per cent since Jan. 15 from 1691 to 1514—a drop of 177 female workers. During the month of July, only 65 women were needed to fill jobs listed with the OSES. Practically all of these jobs were within service establishments at low rates of pay, and a few were secretarial positions and clerical openings requiring specific experience.

Beginning with this release of labor market information, 34 reporting industries instead of 36 will be used as the basis for analyzing local emloyment trends and anticipating future trends—this is due to the dropping of two industries from the reporting program because of discontinuing operations. Since March, 1947, the 36 reporting industries have shown a slight decline in their total employment figure from month to month chiefly as a result of the ebbing employment figure of these two industries.

Employment Stable

The total employment figure for the present 34 reporting industries has remained quite stable since Jan. 1, showing a gain of only 9 per cent since January 1, with male employment increasing and female employment declining.

If planned expansions of the 34 reporting industries materialize, 259 additional workers will be needed by November 15, 1947, to bring their employment figure to 8,258 workers. The greatest anticipated increase will occur in the manufacturing establishments, and these anticipations will greatly depend on the regularity of the receipt of material. Of the 259 additional workers needed by November 15, only 70 of the requirements will be for female workers, and only 13 of the 70 will be needed in manufacturing establishments.

Currently the labor demand-supply balance for men is favorable. At times, orders for skilled and semi-skilled industrial workers are received in the Marion OSES which are quite a problem to fill because of the lack of qualified workers, however, there are no general shortage occupations which are handicapping production.

Australians generally regard Captain James Cook, an English Navy officer who discovered the Pacific shores of Australia in 1770, as their Columbus.

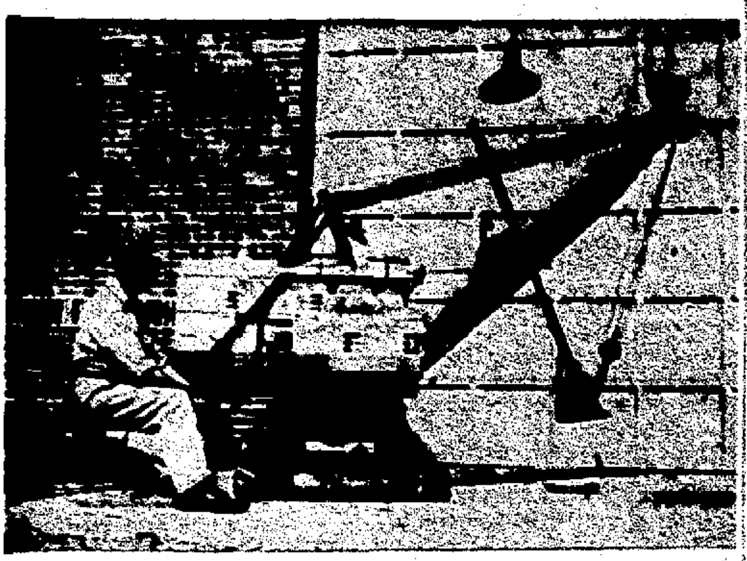
Kansas Man Puts 12 Years of Labor Into Working Model of Giant Marion Shovel



VETERAN OPERATOR RUNS MINIATURE MARION SHOVEL

In a recent issue of "The Marion Scoop" shop paper for Marion Power Shovel Co. employes, there appeared a description and picture of a miniature shovel built by a Kansas shovel operator.

The shovel, complete in detail was built by Albert E. Malle, 64, of Mulberry, Kan. The midget was announced as "the world's smallest electric shovel" by the "Strip Pitter," a publication of the Pittsburgh and Midway Coal Mining Co.

Mr. Malle started the model 12 years ago. Built to scale, the lower frame is patterned after the Marion Type 350 electric shovel on rails and track. Before Mr. Malle got too far along, the Type 5560 came out so the upper frame was patterned after the newer model.

The entire unit is mounted on four sets of wheels that run on a miniature narrow gauge track. The machine is geared to move either forward or backward. It weighs 600 pounds and is operated from a control box attached to the shovel by a flexible cable.

Dimensions are as follows: lower deck, 26 inches wide, upper deck where machinery is installed, 22 inches wide and 44 inches long; control room, extending on either side of the deck, is 20 inches from the ground; A-frame is 31 inches and handles 12 boom cables and 8 safety cables. Five motors control the shovel mechanism, one is a one-quarter h.p., two are one-sixth and the other two are smaller yet; boom is 85 inches long and dipper stick is 59 inches long. The bucket works on a swivel and the teeth are replaceable.

The model was first seen by Roy Jacoby while on a road trip in Kansas. He brought back a picture of the shovel and information was later secured from several sources.

Mr. Malle is an operator on a Marion 250 and has been employed by the Clemons Coal Co., Pittsburg, Kas., for 18 years. Approximately 30,000 rivets and 2,000 bolts were used in construction of the model.

It has been purchased from the builder by the Pittsburg and Midway Coal Co., users of Marion shovels.

MORE SCIENCE FUNDS URGED

Truman Aide Says Safety of U. S. Depends on Success of Researchers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman declared today "national survival" demands the United States sharply increase its spending for scientific research.

In his first report as chairman of the President's scientific research board, Steelman said "no responsible person can fail to recognize the uneasy character of the present peace."

And a nation which falls behind in fundamental scientific knowledge, he advised Mr. Truman, "would be severely handicapped in any future war."

2 Billion Needed

Steelman proposed that by 1957 public and private outlays for advancing research should be at the rate of 1 per cent of the national income, or an estimated $2,000,000,000 a year.

This would be twice the present rate, but Steelman's report said it would be a bare minimum "if we are to remain a bulwark of democracy in the world."

Mr. Truman released the report along with a statement of his own saying:

"We must constantly enlarge the boundaries of scientific knowledge in order to continue to provide the benefits of full production and full employment, and in order to protect our democracy from the dangers it faces in an uneasy world."

The report suggested that government action should include:

1. Creation of a national science foundation authorized to spend increasingly large sums for basic research, up to at least $250,000,000 by 1957.

(The last session of congress passed a bill to create a science foundation but Mr. Truman vetoed the measure on the contention that too much authority was centered in a proposed committee of scientists.)

2. Greater emphasis on basic and medical research in government-supported projects, while continuing military research expenditures at "high levels" for at least five years.

3. Scholarships for students to overcome a shortage of scientific manpower.

4. Financial assistance to schools needing laboratory facilities and scientific equipment.

5. Encouragement of the revival of European laboratories.

6. Creation of a federal committee to help coordinate government research and development programs. Mr. Truman's statement said he plans to name this committee soon.

Army's Order Scotches Plans for Ft. Hayes

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 28—Possibility of Columbus' use of Fort Hayes as a veterans housing project was doomed today after the war department removed the historic post from a list of surplus establishments.

The post was listed for "future use by civilian components of the Army, which includes the National Guard and organized reserves," by the war department yesterday.

Only two months ago, at elaborate ceremonies, the Army turned the post over to the state.

About 30 employes of the office of Adj. Gen. Chester W. Goble will be moved to Fort Hayes after Oct. 1, along with the headquarters of 18 National Guard units in Columbus.

There is no permanent garrison of troops at the post is planned, Army officials said.

In Loving Memory
★Of William Sandbower, who passed away 3 years ago today, Aug. 28, 1944.

Your end was sudden, father dear,
You made us weep and cry,
But, oh, the saddest part of all,
You never said goodbye.

Years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never.
The memory of all the happy days
That we all spent together.

To those who have a father,
Tend him with loving care,
For you never know his value
Till you see his vacant chair.

Sadly missed by daughters,
Mary Travis,
Gertrude Van Sickle,
Emma Silvers,
Anna Phillips.

And leave us here to mourn

DAYTON O., Aug. 28—Police today sought the driver of a green, stake truck that struck and fatally injured Jerome Christman Sr., 58, in nearby Vandalia.

Christman, brother of Police Chief Gail Christman of Newark, was struck about 4 p. m. yesterday as he and a son, Jerome Jr., were walking home on U. S. route 25 from the Arrow Products plant.

Christman was in charge of air conditioning and utilities maintenance at the plant.

Six other factory employes said the truck drove up behind the Christmans, apparently went out of control swerved to the right, struck the men, and kept on going. Christman's body was thrown 35 feet.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m., Saturday at the Morton funeral home in Vandalia. Burial will be in Newark.

Other survivors are the widow, Virginia; another son Phillip; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Davidson of Newark; a brother Vernon of Newark and his father, James Edward Christman of Newark.

3 Persons Hurt In Auto-Truck Crash

A truck-auto accident on route 4 about eight miles south of Bucyrus resulted in injury to a Marion girl and two companions at 8:30 last night the state highway patrol reported.

Miss Dorothy Veness, 17, of 445 Cherry street suffered cuts on the face and bruised knees when the car in which she was a passenger sideswiped a stake truck driven by Walter E. Smith, 38, of Willard. Ross J. Borgis, 20, of Norwalk was driving the auto. He suffered cuts and bruises Another passenger Donald F Jones, 22, of Norwalk suffered a bad cut over the right eye and other lacerations.

The injured persons were taken to Marion City hospital, where they were treated and released.

Both vehicles were damaged extensively.

ADMIT GAMBLING CHARGE

By The Associated Press

FREMONT, O., Aug. 28—George Hoffman was fined $600 and Kenneth J. Dunn was fined $300 today as both Woodville men pleaded guilty before Judge A. V. Baumann to charge of exhibiting slot machines.

The alfalfa plant has a long tap root system which penetrates deeply into the soil, and enables the plant to secure nourishment and moisture beyond the reach of other crops.

School Lunch Program Continues This Year

The school lunch program will continue in the Marion county schools at least for the next six months, County Supt. D. T. Mills said today. Financed from funds from the federal and state governments the schools have been reimbursed an average of seven cents on each hot lunch served to children. According to a recent announcement by state officials administering the lunch program, only schools receiving aid last year will be the recipients of the subsidy this year. No new applications will be accepted at least for the next six months, the announcement said.

All the Marion county schools received the aid last year, but the city schools lacking cafeteria facilities have not participated.

Football Squad of 30 Reports at Forest

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 28 — Lowell Reese, Forest High grid coach opened the season football practice with 30 boys, 6 of them lettermen from last year's squad. Two sessions daily are in order until the opening day of school, Sept. 2.

Those back from last season are Robert Exline and Jack Hochstettler, at the pivot post; William Spencer, tackle; Charles Wells, guard and Norman Phillips and Paul Gordon, in the backfield. Indications are that keen competition will force them to hustle to hold their varsity berths.

The '47 schedule opens on Sept. 12, with Elida, followed by Richwood, Sept. 19; at Delphos, Sept. 26; Kenton, Oct. 3; at Columbus Grove, Oct. 10; Lafayette, Oct. 17; Pandora, Oct. 24 at Ada, Oct. 31; at Shawnee, Nov. 7; at Spencerville, Nov. 11.

The double ring ceremony was read by the pastor of the church, Rev. C. F. Brouse. Miss Alice Keller of Cleveland was the maid of honor and Jack Stuckey of Sycamore was best man. The bride is a graduate of Port Clinton High school and of the school of nursing of Mt. Sinai hospital in Cleveland. She also attended Western Reserve university. Mr. Shealy is a graduate of Sycamore High school and attended Davis business school in Toledo. He was employed at the Erie Proving ground when he enlisted in the Naval air corps serving three years. He is now a junior in the school of commerce at O.S.U.

Procter & Gamble presents the

AMAZING FACTS

about a modern washday miracle!

IT'S TIDE

Procter & Gamble's brand-new discovery!

TIDE is the product of revolutionary new knowledge uncovered during wartime research. Tide does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! The minute you see Tide's miracle suds, you'll know it's completely new and different. Those suds look different . . . feel different! And Tide suds just laugh at hard water . . . they billow up thick and fast even in hardest water!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

Yes, cleaner than any soap made! And that goes for your heaviest, dirtiest laundry...even greasy overalls! Tide leaves clothes free, not only from ordinary dirt, but from gray, dingy soap film as well.

2. Actually brightens colors!

Turn to Tide for a brighter, fresher-looking colored wash! Dainty washable colors brighten like magic as Tide removes dulling soap film!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

Tide keeps your precious white things dazzling white, week after week! Tide can't turn them yellow, no matter how often they're washed or how long they're stored!

4. Gives more suds—
Prove it in your dishpan!

Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic . . . washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

TIDE'S IN— DIRT'S OUT!

GUARANTEE

Procter & Gamble guarantees that Tide will do everything claimed for it in this advertisement. If you are not completely satisfied, return the unused portion of your package to your dealer and the purchase price will be refunded.

For Labor Day Picnic

CHARCOAL BROILED STEAKS . . . For outdoor epicures.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Even if meat is astronomically expensive, we all have to have treats sometimes. So I suggest that you save up for a steak-cooking picnic on Labor day. Steak cooked on an open fire, whether in the woods or on an apartment terrace, is a treat in anybody's language.

Broiled Steak

You may belong to the salt school, which makes a paste of salt and water and spreads it liberally over the steak before cooking. However you may react to that suggestion, let me assure you that it does not make the steak salty. It just makes a black crust on the outside and great juiciness inside. Some people (did you know?) do the same thing with sugar!

My husband belongs to the more-flavor-than-that school and he certainly turns out a delicious steak over charcoal. I have watched him carefully enough to give you a good idea of how it's done. Try it and make your own deviations.

Steak Seasoning

½ cup olive oil, 1 cut clove garlic, 3 tablespoons wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, ⅛ teaspoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon paprika.

Let the garlic stand in the rest of the ingredients mixed together for at least an hour. Half an hour before cooking the steak, brush one side generously with the mixture. (You can use a pastry brush or "massage" it on with your hand.) After searing the first side of the steak, brush the other side before turning.

The Actual Cooking

There mustn't be a flame in sight, and the coals you've made (this takes at least an hour) must be very hot and glowing. Sear one side of steak rapidly, then turn and sear the other, thus sealing in the juices. I hope you have your steaks cut at least two inches thick. It will take from ten to 15 minutes to a side to do a steak of this thickness. Test it by cutting into it. The chances are it is better done than you think, so the great precaution should be not to over-cook it. Long, thin slices are most convenient to eat in rolls.

With steak serve beefsteak tomatoes, if you can buy them. Corn on the cob is another good accompaniment. If your fireplace isn't in your backyard, you can still make a fine big oven-proof dish full of scalloped potatoes, take them to the picnic wrapped in heavy cloths, and then put them at the back of the fire to reheat.

Scalloped Potatoes

8 medium-sized potatoes, 4 cups scalded milk, 2 onions, ½ cup flour, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Salt and pepper.

Place a layer of sliced raw potatoes in a buttered oven-proof dish. Sprinkle with seasoned flour. Add a layer of thinly sliced onions. Continue layering until all potatoes are used. Add butter or margarine to the milk and pour over the potatoes. Bake covered at 300 to 325 degrees for an hour. Uncover and bake ten to 15 minutes longer, or until top is lightly browned.

YOUR HEALTH

Shingles

FORMERLY people with shingles, which is known by medical men as herpes zoster, suffered a great deal of unnecessary fear because of the old wives' tale that death would ensue should the blisters which develop in this disorder ever encircle the body.

Today, fortunately, we know that this is a mere superstition. Herpes zoster is a disorder of the skin in which blisters form along the course of one or more of the nerves which carry sensory messages from the skin to the brain to tell of heat and cold, smooth and rough, pressure and pain.

Most common place for the rash of blisters to break out is the chest, but it is often present on the face and may also affect the cornea or soft part of the eyeball.

Unfortunately, the exact cause of this condition is not known, although it is believed to be due to a virus, that is, an organism so small that it can pass through the openings in a special filter made of porcelain. There apparently is some relation between this condition and chickenpox which some doctors believe is caused by the same virus.

Dr. Joseph V. Klauder, of Philadelphia, has reported eight cases in which the herpes zoster appeared after injury. The rash developed in the area of the injury after an interval of from one to nine days. In one case, the injury occurred on the forehead, and the rash appeared on the face on the injured side. In other cases, the injury was to the arm, the chest, and the face.

It is possible that the virus which produces the herpes zoster or shingles is present in the body at the time of an injury and that the injury permits its development of growth to go on more rapidly. In these cases in which the disorder develops following injury, healing goes on as usual, and in practically all cases, complete recovery occurs.

The pain produced by the condition usually is not severe enough to keep the person from going about his regular activities. In some cases particularly in those above middle age, the pain may be severe and long continued.

In those instances in which the eye is affected, the outlook for the patient, as a rule, is not quite as good since the eyesight may be damaged to some extent.

Various forms of treatment for herpes zoster have been advised. In most instances, if the rash is kept covered, it heals without any complications. The pain along the course of the affected nerve is probably the worst symptoms. Injections of extract from the pituitary gland have been suggested as possibly being of some help. A physician will prescribe such drugs as may be necessary to relieve the pain temporarily.

It would appear that in some cases herpes zoster may definitely be produced by injuries of the skin. Unfortunately, no preventive measures are available in the case of such injuries to keep the disorder from developing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

P. S.: My arms and legs remain thin even though I am gaining weight otherwise. Is there anything I can do about it?

Answer: There is no method of which I know that makes it possible to increase the size of certain parts of the body.

FOREMEN HEAR DR. ARENSON

O.W.U. Professor Speaks at Meeting of Universal Cooler Group.

One of the largest attendance on record was noted last evening at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Foremen's Club of Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corp. held in the Marion Club rooms at Hotel Harding. Over 60 foremen and guests attended.

E. J. Palmer, newly elected president of the Foremen's club was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by F. S. McNeal, vice president and general manager of Universal Cooler division and S. T. Rose, director of industrial relations. Other guests included Congressman Frederick C. Smith from the Eighth district; Dr. Ben Arenson, professor of political science at Ohio Wesleyan university; Ben T. Wiant, treasurer of the Osgood Co.; George Flora, president of the Arro Expansion Bolt Co.; William Erickson, plant manager of the Huber Manufacturing Co.; Harley Whitmore, chief engineer of Deep Freeze division of Motor Products Co. of North Chicago; and V. E. St. John, director of industrial relations of the International Detrola Corporation, Detroit.

Cong. Smith Speaks

The guests were introduced by Mr. McNeal and Mr. Rose. Brief comments were given by Congressman Smith, who said he had worked very closely with Universal Cooler representatives while in Washington and had watched its growth to its present large employment and production capacity.

Mr. Wiant explained activities of the Foremen's club at the Osgood plant and the other Osgood allied industries.

The principal spetaker was Dr. Arenson, who has talked on political science to many Kiwanis, Rotary and other service groups throughout Ohio. His subject was: "You Must Believe in Democracy."

He pointed out that we all are well aware of the possible clash between the East and the West due to the fact we believe in an independnt form of government, whereas others believe in government of a different form, he said.

"Often the dictatorship accuses democracy of being inefficient, however, as we of America and other companion nations love freedom, we should welcome a little inefficiency over dictatorship."

In commenting upon our form of government, Dr. Arenson stated that too many American citizens fail to vote or support elections. For example, in the United States, there are approximately 140,000,000 people of which 70 per cent are eligible to vote, he said. In 1938, a non-presidential election year, only 38,000,000 voted for the important congressional election. In 1942, in a war year, only 28,000,000 voted for congress. In 1946, this figure improved somewhat and 34,000,000 voted in the congressional election.

It was also mentioned that if the United States or any other country reached the place where there was only one political party, it would soon become a dictatorship. "This is history that has repeated itself down throughout the ages," he said. "Whenever you see a country of two or more parties coming up, the results will be a democracy. Where freedom is at its best, you will have at least two political parties," he declared.

"We often hear the comment that politics are dirty. I will have none of that. That is just like a housewife saying, 'I don't like dirt. That's why I don't clean.' It is no reason just that we feel politics are dirty, when the best and finest people of our country cannot go in and clean it up. Those who feel too particular in politics and make no effort to clean up politics and keep it clean, stimulate political bosses and dirty politics."

After the talk, a question and answer period was held. When asked, "What is Communism," Dr. Arenson stated "Communism is an extreme case of Socialism." "They get power by force, believe in common ownership; the state is everything. This all is contrary to our American way of life. Communism offers no free enterprise, no free speech and is willing to use violence if necessary to obtain its goal."

Marion County Old Age Pension Society Meets

The weekly meeting of the Marion County Old Age Pension Society was held Friday in Eagles' hall with Rev. O. R. Martin, pastor of First Wesleyan Methodist church on Silver street, as guest speaker.

The meeting opened with members giving the salute to the flag, singing "America" and repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Musical program included three choir selections, "Dwelling In Beulahland", "Throw Out the Life Line" and "Ring the Bells of Heaven" and a hymn by Christian Ruth and William E. Sergent, "When They Ring Them Golden Bells for You and Me". Mrs. Herman F. Miers played the piano accompaniement.

Rev. Martin for his text chose "this poor man cried out and the Lord heard him and delivered him from his troubles'.. He went on to state that with rising living costs, people were having a harder time of getting along but if they stored up gifts in heaven they would be rich in the spiritual things. Rev. Martin concluded by saying that he had never seen "the righteous forsaken or His children begging bread and that all fear of death, hell, grave and judgement is taken away by Divine Love."

A report of the sick was given by William Porter and "The Flash", edited by the Townsend legislature, was read by Arthur Hershner. Claude Crowley was elected as delegate for the state convention held in Columbus, Aug. 26. The meeting closed with a prayer by Rev. Martin.

Navy Radiophotos Map Of Pacific Weather

SAN FRANCISCO — The Navy can now prepare a weather map of any spot in the central Pacific within 30 minutes after the weather changes anywhere along the line of an 8,500-mile radiophoto system.

Weather stations in Guam, Honolulu and San Francisco prepare maps which give detailed pictures of the situation in their areas. Within half an hour, these charts can be transmitted along the whole chain of bases from the China coast to Washington.

The instantaneous transmission of weather data is of particular importance to airmen planning long flights. Ordinarily cabled weather reports are not fast enough to keep aviation units abreast of conditions.

Doctor Denies Assault On Woman Patient

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28— A 28-year-old physician denied on the witness stand that he gave a woman patient a "white pill" and assaulted her in his office after she had come to him complaining of a headache.

Dr. Robert S. LeFever, testifying yesterday at the opening of his trial on charges of rape, assault with intent to ravish, fornication, and administering a drug with intent to commit a felony, declared he had not had immoral relations with Mrs. Rita Dryer, 23, as charged on the night of Nov. 21, 1946.

The physician also denied that he admitted having relations with Mrs. Dryer to detective Freeman Ramer, who testified Dr. LeFever made the admission during a lie detector test.

Mrs. Dryer told the jury of 11 men and a woman that she recovered from the influence of the pill lying unclothed on a couch in the doctor's reception room.

V.F.W. Post Raises Membership Dues

Membership dues in Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3313 were increased from $3 to $5 a year at a meeting last night. An increase in the per capita tax by the state and national organizations made the hike in dues here necessary, it was explained.

A report on eligibility requirements for membership was received from the Ohio department of the V.F.W. A committee was appointed to investigate the qualifications of the new applicants for membership and report at the next meeting Sept. 12.

Harry Baker, chairman of the committee to arrange the program for the Tenth district encampment here Sept. 27-28, gave a brief report on the planned activities.

Springfield Clips Cubs, 4-2; Zanesville Beats Muncie, 6-1, Gaining Game

Dayton Indians To Play Marion In Doubleheader Here Tonight

By DON C. BURTON

There should be a rule against throwing curve balls to young baseball players.

The Marion Cubs succumbed to the number two pitch of Springfield's righthander Jim Voss last night at Lincoln park as the Giants defeated the Cubs for the second straight time by an identical score, 4-2.

The win gave Springfield the series and also an even break on the season here as each team won five times during the year at Lincoln park.

This is the best record of any of the Ohio State league teams against the Cubs in their own den. The Cubs have won two and lost three at Springfield with five games yet to play.

Dayton Here Tonight

The Dayton Indians are here tonight for a doubleheader starting at 6:30. It was announced earlier that only a single game would be played tonight but another recheck of the often revised schedule has Goodman's crew booked for two tonight.

Manager Nelson Burbrink whose pitching plans have been disrupted lately because of many doubleheaders and Jim Sabens' sore elbow will start Bert Flamini and Frank Smith against the Indians. Dayton has won only one of the six games played here this year.

John Graney pitched excellent ball in his second start of the year and with better breaks might have won. He allowed only eight hits and walked but two. Two of the visitors runs were unearned.

Cubs Hitless Until 6th

The Cubs never got a hit off Jim Voss, former Lima twirler, until the sixth as they hit very few balls to the outfield off him. Roy Hollingshead broke the spell when he beat out a hit back of second. John Smith then singled cleanly to center and Mel Nelson beat out a roller to third on which Davis threw wild at first and Hollingshead scored for the first run.

The Giants got the first run in the opening inning when a high fly from the bat of Bill Metral hit a wire in right field and bounced for a triple with Bob Shuford apparently ready to catch the ball. Metral scored on a pop fly single back of second by Mellen.

A hit, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error gave the Giants their second run in the fifth. Then with two out in the sixth Don Ramsay singled and went to third when Bobzean threw wild to first on a hit by Hosler. The Springfield skipper tallied when John Smith fumbled a roller by Vanderhaar. The final Giant run came over in the eighth when Hosler tripled behind a single by Davis.

The Cubs got a futile run in the eighth. Roy Hollingshead singled and after Smith filed out he took third on a single by Nelson that took a bad hop over O'Grady at short. Roy tallied when Bill Metral dropped an assist from Davis on a skipper by Burbrink.

On several occasions Marion batters took third strikes when the curve of Voss had them fooled. Dwight Maxhimer who is in an extended slump, due to an overdose of curve balls was a strikeout victim three times. Manager Burbrink took the third strike twice.

Jack Maisch Sets OSL 2 - Base Hit Record with 33rd

By The Associated Press

Jack Maisch of the Lima Terriers doubled his way into a corner of the Ohio State league hall of fame last night when he connected for his 33rd double of the season, tops in the league and the Terriers down Dayton, 6-5.

The Richmond Roses twice stole home in the first inning of a night-cap at Newark, going on to win 14-4 in revenge for a 14-8 loss in the opener.

Zanesville continued to stretch its lead over Marion, winning 6-1 from Muncie in a tilt that saw Mike Blazo, Muncie manager, ejected for a prolonged dispute with an umpire at home plate in the third inning. Dodger Clarence Anderson rang up his 12th victory against five losses in OSL play.

Umpire-in-chief Jack Norris was reported in satisfactory condition at a Lima hospital last night after collapsing in the Dayton dugout in the third inning. Cause of the collapse was given as heart attack.

Norris was released from a hospital Monday but worked a ball game at Lima that night when, through an error in scheduling, five umpires showed for work at Newark, and none at Lima.

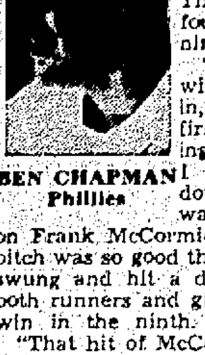
PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

"The most important play that I remember," says Manager Ben Chapman of the Phillies, "was also the turning point in the fortunes of the Philadelphia club.

"The Cubs had us beaten 8 to 1 in Chicago last summer and Hank Borowy was pitching a no-hitter until the eighth inning. We got four runs in the eighth and made it 8 to 5. Then we made four more in the ninth.



BEN CHAPMAN
Phillies

"In the ninth with two runs in, a runner on first and the tying run on third I called for a double steal. It was two strikes on Frank McCormick. Well, the pitch was so good that McCormick swung and hit a double, scoring both runners and giving us a 9-8 win in the ninth.

"That hit of McCormick's made it possible for the Phils to draw over one million fans last year. The victory took us out of last place and proved to the players and fans that we had a ball club."

Season tickets for the six Marion Harding High home football games this season may be obtained by filling in the accompanying order blank and sending it along with a check for the required amount to the principal's office, Harding High School.

The season ticket sale campaign will be launched next Wednesday, Sept. 3, by the Harding High School Athletic association and the Marion Boosters club.

All seats in the permanent concrete grandstand on the west side of Harding stadium field will be reserved this year and as many as possible will be sold on a season basis. The price of a season ticket for the six home games is $5 for adults and $2.75 for students from the first to the twelfth grades.

Proceeds from the season ticket sale and private donations will help pay for 1,692 new-style bleacher seats being erected on the east side of the stadium field.

A loan of $8,000 from the Boosters club made possible the erection of the $10,000 bleachers. High school officials hope to raise the remaining $2,000 this season through the sale of season tickets and private contributions.

A Harding intra-squad practice game at the stadium next Wednesday night will mark the opening of the ticket sale campaign.

The regular Harding season will get under way Friday night, Sept. 12 at the stadium.

Blackwell Wins His 20th Game But Will Be Sidelined for Time

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Aug. 28 — Ewell Blackwell had his twentieth victory of the season chalked up on the National league blackboard today, but it may be a while before he has a chance to make it 21.

The big Californian recorded the league's first twentieth victory last night against the Boston Braves, the Reds winning 4-2 in 10 innings.

BLACKWELL

But he had to retire in the tenth because of swelling of the knee he injured in a plate collision with Pete Reiser of the Dodgers in Brooklyn last Thursday.

Harry Gumbert finished the game for Blackwell, setting down the Braves in order. The Reds had gone ahead in their side of the tenth on singles by Lukon and Galan, Hatton's sacrifice, and Rowell's error on a pop by Babe Young.

"FIREMAN" JOE PAGE SAVES YANK VICTORY

Reliefer Continues To Make Harris Forget Pitching Worry

By The Associated Press

What with a healthy 12½ game lead and an unhealthy pitching staff, Manager Stanley "Bucky" Harris of the New York Yankees would like to turn another page these days—if it's a page like Lefty Joe Page.

Working in his seventh game of the 11-game western swing, Page took over in the sixth inning with the score tied at 6-all and held the St. Louis Browns to three singles and no runs the rest of the way. The Yanks salvaged their fifth win in 11 invasion tries, 7-6 in 10 innings.

His dependability in relief chores is one reason the Yanks aren't feeling the loss of pitchers Frank Shea, Spud Chandler and Allie Reynolds as much as they might. All three are out with arm ailments.

Tigers, Red Sox Split

At Detroit, the Red Sox and Tigers were dividing their second straight twin bill and taking turns keeping the second place seat warm. The Tigers ascended after beating lefty Earl Johnson, 7-2, in the first game, after he'd held them to one hit for six innings. The Red Sox came back in the after-piece to win, 5-4 and resume second place.

Milo Candini's relief pitching gave Washington a 6-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the remaining American league contest.

National League Developments

These developments highlighted national league play:

▶Brooklyn, St. Louis and Boston, the three top clubs, all were beaten.

▶Johnny Mize cracked his 43rd home run of the year as the Giants beat the Cards, 6-4, to go five games and four days ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 circuit smashing schedule.

▶Ewell "The Eel" Blackwell, of Cincinnati became the first major leaguer this year to win 20 games as the Reds stopped the Boston Braves 4-2 in 10 innings.

Cubs Beat Dodgers

The Chicago Cubs beat the Dodgers, 6-3, running their string to four straight over the loop leaders. Negro hurler Dan Bankhead saw his batting average shrink to .500 as he grounded out as a Brooks pinch hitter. He'd hit a homer in his only other major league time at bat Tuesday.

In the remaining National league game Dutch Leonard achieved his 16th victory for the tail-end Philadelphia Phillies by out-pitching Mel Queen of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

A DIFFERENT STORY

Editor of The Star: Mr. Roseberry had a piece in your paper about supporting Marion Cub players which I certainly agree with. But a man has a right in this country of free speech.

If Marion would have lost Tuesday night's game by playing bad I would not have a word to say, but having it stolen by base umpiring is a different thing. I think our paper should back our players in bad decisions like we got on bases last night.

I was not the only one in the stands to holler. It was almost 100 per cent of the fans.

Feller Wins No. 16 In Home Run Duel

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 28—In a battle of pitching and home runs, the Cleveland Indians bested the Athletics, 2-1, last night to even the two-game series here with the Mackmen.

Bob Feller and Dick Fowler dueled through the full nine innings, each allowing only six hits. Five infield double plays lightened Feller's chores. He faced only 31 batters in scoring his 16th victory against nine setbacks, fanned six and walked three.

FELLER

Hank Majeski, Athletic third baseman, rapped a Feller offering into the left field stands in the fifth for the game's first run, and in the next frame outfielder Hank Edwards hammered the ball over the right field fence for Cleveland to make it 1-1.

The third and deciding homer came in the seventh when Ken Keltner punched a high, close 3-and-1 pitch into the lower left field stands.

Husband Sentenced On Assault Charge

Herbert A. Turner, 24, of route 6 Marion was sentenced in municipal court yesterday to 60 days in the Columbus workhouse when he was found guilty on a charge of assault and battery filed by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Turner. In addition to the sentence Turner was fined $50 and costs. He was arrested at 4:45 p. m. Tuesday and pleaded not guilty in a preliminary hearing yesterday morning.

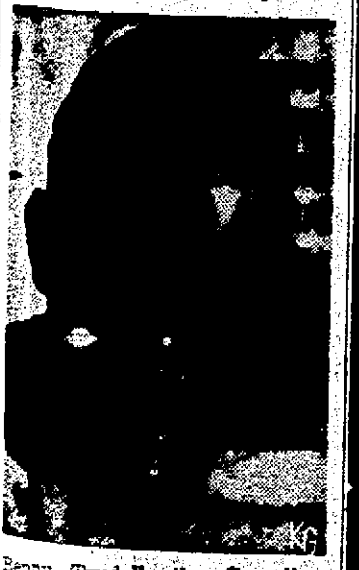
"Trudell and Jones Clash Thursday"



Benny Trudell, the Canadian lumberjack who was too rough for Gordon Hessell last Thursday will meet a man just as tough as he is, namely Rufus Jones in one of the main events tomorrow night at the Marion Armory. The bearded Canadian really got under the skins of local fans when he roughed up the popular Milwaukee boy and for once Rufus will likely enter the ring being the favorite. The other ninety minute match brings in the Junior Heavyweight champ, Billy Rayburn in a non-title match. He will meet Silent Rattan, a mute. Rattan hasn't been around these parts for seven years but was one of the most popular men to ever come to Marion. A ten minute prelim will open the show at 8:30. TWO SOFTBALL TILTS RESULT IN STYMIE

Epworth-Trinity, St. Mary-Forest Lawn Games Tied Up.

Sunday School league softball players last night worked up a sweat for just a "dry run." Four teams came out of their respective games with nothing lost and nothing gained, as ties resulted in both contests.

All interested eyes were on the St. Mary 1-Forest Lawn match that could have decided the second round crown. The Irish scored a single run in the last of the seventh to tie the count at 4-4 and darkness set in. Forest Lawn is still leading the loop with a six won and none lost record, while St. Mary 1 is just out with a five won and one lost record. The game will be replayed.

The other game of the evening, a game matching the downunders, also resulted in a 4-4 draw. Epworth played Trinity. Bob Rice of Trinity and Bob Virden of Epworth each homered.

Stagg Leading Example of Ever-Youthful Sports Figures

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, Tex. — Somehow, the men of sport never seem to grow old. It must be because they are doing what they want to do. Certainly there is nothing more glamorous, more interesting or that furnishes more freedom of thought and action.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, the corner stone of football, has this philosophy:

"I want to go on so long as I am useful."

That's why he refused a position at College of the Pacific that would take him away from the scene of action—"consultant in athletics." He resigned as coach and took a job at Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania where he will continue to teach wide open football and school youngsters on how to stop it when the opposition tries the same thing.

Takes Houston by Storm

The oldest football coach of them all—the man who has been tutoring college boys in the finer points of the game for 57 years—literally took Houston by storm when he came here with his College of the Pacific team to play in the Optimist Bowl.

There were so many meetings, banquets, receptions and celebrations the youngest of coaches would have been worn to a frazzle. But not so the man who made Walter Camp's first All-America in 1889, who has been on the National Rules Committee for more than 40 years, who at 84 is as keen as a well-honed razor and who won't even hazard a guess as to how much longer he can continue as an active coach.

"I have no ambitions to live to a certain age," he said "I want to live so long as I am useful. Like the cowboy who dies with his boots on, I want to die in the thick of action doing the things I want to do."

Perhaps a better insight to the man whose amazing vitality is a living legend can be gleaned from the observations of his son, Amos Alonzo Stagg Jr., whom the grand old man of football will work with as co-coach at Susquehanna.

AMOS ALONZO TAGG
Takes Texas by Storm

"First, he lives cleanly," said Amos Alonzo Jr., himself 47 years old and a coach for more than two decades. "There are no excesses. He gets plenty of sleep, trying for [illegible] hours daily. He watches his eating. He does not smoke and he does not drink. Then, he comes from a line of people who are noted for longevity. That, you know, seems to be inherited. Then he has the happy faculty of dismissing any cares or worries from his mind once the day's work is done.

"I haven't seen him more than 10 times in the 14 years he coached at College of the Pacific. Once when I saw him, I asked: 'How do you feel, dad?' You know what he said? 'I feel good,' he answered, 'I feel as good as you do. You don't have to ask me that.'"

Has Young Thoughts

Stagg has another theory on how to stay young. It's to have young thoughts and young thoughts don't deal with the past.

Stagg refuses to live in retrospect. He lives in the future. He won't even look back and tell you whom he thinks was the greatest football player of all time, what was the greatest team or who was the greatest coach. "What's next?" his blue eyes ask you.

He is modest. He weighed only 140 pounds when he was picked as an All-American end in 1889. A little fellow like that would have to have plenty on the ball to make a college team in the days of Pudge Heffelfinger and the other giants of football. But says Stagg: "I happened to come along when there weren't many good players, when the game wasn't so well developed and when there were few high school stars."

Today Stagg weighs 160. He has only a little paunch, he stands erect, he is keen-eyed and he can rattle off dates as if reading an encyclopedia. He can tell you the changes in football by the years, the seasons when this and that coach served. He is a walking book of football.

Football Great Game

Football, he says, is a great game. There is nothing wrong with it. Right now the social aspects are bad. But, he hastens, that's been the way after each war. It's nothing to be alarmed about. It all will pass away.

He had a bright quip when asked if he thought there were any rule changes necessary. "I know of none but there will be some," he smiled. "Navy probably will favor doing away with the point after touchdown."

(Note: Navy lost to Army because it couldn't kick the necessary three points after touchdown.)

Amos Alonzo, Jr., says his father will coach the backfield at Susquehanna. When it comes to defense, Stagg, Jr., let it be known he would call on his dad plenty. "I consider him the greatest defensive coach in America," Amos Alonzo Jr., said.

The son says this is why his father has done so much for sports:

"He started out to be a preacher but wound up as a coach. But it was his work as a divinity student that gave him the perspective. That's why he dedicated his life to building boys."

150 Attend Party Given by Sportsmen

The Marion County Fish and Game Association's annual family night held at Central Junior High school Wednesday night was attended by about 150 persons.

The program included a welcome by J. W. Sallsbury. He talked on the club's history. It was first organized in 1934 with Dr. Z. B. Houghton, now a Michigan resident, as president.

The talk given by Johnny Jones Columbus newspaper columnist, was chiefly about fishing in Canada and various parts of Ohio. He also touched on his world travels.

Charles Craven, ventriloquist, was another entertainer. Mrs. Goldie Swope and Miss Virginia Grover presented musical numbers.

Mr. Sallsbury acted as the master of ceremonies.

Angels' Coach Praises Squad

Fetter Discards Crying Towel and Says Semi-Pro Gridders Should Prove Tough.

Coach Gene Fetter, deviating from an attitude of the past, has declared that he is optimistic about the outlook for the Safety Cab Angels.

Usually prone to express pessimism Fetter, after working the team for about three weeks, says that they are shaping up and should prove tough in semi-pro football competition.

The Angels will open their season at Mt. Gilead a week from Sunday against the Hilltop Athletic club of Columbus. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is handling the advance ticket sale.

Returnees Get Berths

This year's squad is being built around returnees from last year's with a number of other candidates being worked in.

Max Roseberry and Jim Gilmore, who did outstanding end work last season, are again working with the squad. Herb Phillians, a Harding end last year also looks like a candidate for action.

At tackle posts Bill Fate, Charlie Lust, and Bob Dull, all are back from last year.

Martin Lewis, assistant coach and team captain who quit playing last year because of employment that made it almost impossible, will again be back at a guard slot. Bob Porter, a new hopeful, and Gerry Obenour from last year are also guard candidates.

The center position is being filled by Willard Benson.

The backfield setup has Edward Simmons at quarte r, Bob Ivey at halfback, Don Reams at the other half, and Bill Scott at full. Reams and Scott are new finds. Others who should see their share of action are Fred Ruhl, Paul Vogelsang, and Howard Hodges.

The team practices at Harding field from 7 to 8 p. m. under improvised field lights. Emphasis is being put on running from the T and improving blocking.

Boudreau and McKechnie Work For Tribe As Father-Son Team

By LARRY SMITH

Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians acquired a veteran with a reputation as one of the keenest students of pitching form when he persuaded Deacon Bill McKechnie to join the Tribe as a coach.

After the announcement that McKechnie had accepted a position with the Indians, there was immediate speculation that he eventually would succeed Lou Boudreau as manager.

The guessing probably was in order because the Deacon has four pennants and two world's championships to his credit and was managing a major league club when Boudreau was four years old.

Rumors Spiked

However, McKechnie immediately spiked such rumors by declaring he had no managerial ambitions.

"The day Boudreau leaves the Cleveland club will be the day I leave also," was the way Bill put it.

The manner in which McKechnie accepted a job with the Indians indicates he realized he would be tagged as a possible successor to Boudreau.

Veeck and Boudreau agreed that McKechnie would be a great help to tribal hurlers. Veeck phoned the Deacon and offered him the job but McKechnie said he would accept only if Boudreau asked him. Lou did.

There exists between McKechnie and Boudreau the same father-and-son relationship so conspicuous when Burt Shotton was the young pilot's first lieutenant.

Stands on Own Feet

But where Shotton seemed to be in the picture at least partly for the purpose of protecting his chief against slips in strategy or public relations, McKechnie assumes that Lou now is old enough to stand on his own feet in both departments.

There is 30 years difference between the ages of McKechnie and Boudreau, but you forget this wide disparity when the two men start talking baseball. McKechnie is young in heart.

McKechnie is credited with developing Johnny Vander Meer, only major league pitcher ever to hurl two successive no-hit games. Another Cincinnati Red star he developed is Bucky Walters.

Boudreau has told newspapermen that McKechnie is authorized to answer all questions regarding the pitching assignments.

"If you want to know who's pitching," he says, "Bill will be able to tell you."

ASSEMBLY MEETING ENDS

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 28—Elective and appointive officials of Ohio were enroute or at home today after a two-day reunion wound up last night at the Cleveland-Philadelphia baseball game. C. William O'Neill of Marietta, Ohio house of representatives speaker, expressed hope the reunion would become a biennial affair.

LaRue Schools Open Sept. 8

Postponement Made Necessary by Incompleted Improvement Work.

Special to The Star

LARUE, Aug. 28—Opening of the LaRue schools has been postponed to Sept. 8 because work now in progress on the interior of the classrooms and lighting system will not be complete by Tuesday, Supt. C. M. Barden announced today.

The redecorating and lighting system were provided for in a bond issue of $15,500 voted last year. A new furnace already installed in the high school building was also a part of the improvement program.

The High school class rooms have been completed on the inside and part of the wiring for the new lighting system has been installed, but work on the grade building will not be completed on the inside until Sept. 8.

Color Scheme for Rooms

The ceilings of the class rooms when painted are to be white with the walls to be finished in gray, blue, green and light buff. Contract for the painting of the walls was awerded to the Oberdier Brothers of LaRue, who started the job Aug. 8.

Refinishing of the outside of both buildings will be completed after school opens.

Another problem is also lack of two teachers to fill the staff of the High school. A history instructor and a music director are needed.

Two new teachers have been signed for the year. They are Mrs. Carmen Thuma of LaRue as commercial instructor and Miss Martha Lauby of Uniontown, near Akron, who will teach High school English. Mrs. Thuma is a graduate of Ohio Northern university and taught last year in the Alger and McGuffey schools. Miss Lauby is a graduate of an Indiana college and will be teaching her first year.

Former Teachers Employed

Other High school teachers returning from last year's staff include: Don Burton, mathematics and coach; Burdette Hunter, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Lena Gillespie, home economics; Miss Margaret Selanders, English and Latin, and Supt. Barden, who will teach physics.

The grade teachers, all of whom served in the same capacity last year, are: Mrs. Genevieve Everett, first grade; Mrs. Dorothy Smith, second; Miss Lila Harriman, third; Mrs. Virginia Scranton, fourth; Mrs. Doris Virden, fifth; and Mrs. Emma Roettger, sixth.

The two custodians reemployed are William Risor and Searle Munson.

A full day's program will be held the first day with an assembly in the morning and short class periods to issue books in the afternoon.

The school cafeteria will open Sept. 10, two days after the opening, Mr. Barden announced.

ORGANIZER SEEKS JOBS FOR STRIKERS

Duck Takes Applications from Galion Plant Employes.

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 28—All production and office workers (draftsmen, engineers and clerical), of the strike-bound North Electric Manufacturing Co., who have not found employment elsewhere, were asked today to contact Edward J. Duck, international representative of the United Auto Workers (CIO), and make application for work.

As the strike at the plant entered its second week, Wednesday afternoon, Duck said he would receive applications for employment at the union headquarters on West Railroad street, from 8 to 11 a. m., and 1 to 5 p. m., Friday. He said that a check for $1,000, was received by the Local 750 from plants in Toledo.

A committee of the local union who started to canvass Galion merchants for aid Wednesday received wire, and lighting equipment which is being used in the union headquarters tent, cigarets, soft drinks, cash and other supplies.

The North Electric Manufacturing Co., makers of automatic telephone equipment, was shut down last Wednesday afternoon when about 300 production workers voted to walk out until the company recognizes the North Electric unit of Local 750, UAW-CIO, and signs a contract with that union, along with wage increases. About 800 employes of the company in Galion were made idle by the strike and about 250 more were out of work at the Mt. Gilead plant which depends upon the Galion plant for supplies.

Miss Judy Yochem and Mrs. Trollie Lewis are donating their services in the soup kitchen of union headquarters, Duck said, by working seven days per week from noon until 8 p. m.

MAJORITY OF STOCKS NIBBLE AT RECOVERY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—Stocks generally nibbled at recovery in today's market although expectations were plentiful and dealings slow.

A little short covering for protection over the coming long weekend, in addition to timid investment nibbling, propped favorites.

Volume was negligible after a fairly active start. The first hour's aggregate of 95,390 shares was a low for the period since April 10, 1945. Advances of fractions to a point or more were well distributed near the fourth hour but numerous minus marks persisted.

A raised quarterly and extra lifted American Agricultural Chemical 3 points or so to a year's high. Ahead most of the day were Macy, Celanese (also at a 1947 peak), U. S. Steel, Boeing, American Telephone, American Smelting, International Nickel, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Phillips Petroleum and Commercial Solvents.

Intermittent stumblers were Woolworth, American Can, Dow Chemical, Santa Fe, Anaconda and Owens-Illinois. N. Y. and Harlem Railroad was down 12 points at 253 on the first sale since July 1.

Good Samaritan Turns Thief After Kindness

By The United Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The "good samaritan" who offered to help F. B. Foster fix a flat tire on a lonely road near Birmingham tourned out to be something less.

Two men pulled up in another car while Foster was struggling with his tire and one of them obligingly held a flashlight for him while he put on a spare.

When Foster turned around to thank his helper, he found himself looking down a pistol barrel. The "good samaritan" then relieved him of his pocketbook, which contained about $550.

Foster said the two men then debated about whether or not to take his car, but decided against it because they were afraid he hadn't fixed the flat very well and that they might have more tire tdouble.

Programs on the Air

Billy Rose moves into a new field of endeavor when, starting Monday, Oct. 13, he becomes a Mutual network star with a Monday through Friday five-minute commentary in the 7:55-8 p. m., time period. Billy first attracted nationwide attention when he won the title of speed-king of the typewriters in a national competition. He followed that laurel by becoming one of the most successful song writers in Tin Pan Alley. In 1930 he decided upon a career as a Broadway producer — and came through with the hit musical "Crazy Quilt," one of the big successes of the year. He ventured again into show business a few years later to produce the elaborately staged musical "Jumbo," and then, using similar massive, eye and ear appealing techniques, produced his famous water carnival, "Aquacade," which premiered at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland and was moved in 1939 to the New York World's Fair. The year before, 1938, he opend his "Diamond Horseshoe" night club, a tourist attraction in New York City. Nine months ago he decided to become a newspaper columnist and his "Pitchin' Horseshoes," became an overnight hit.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

THERE was an instant's silence as I made my request to speak specially to Olga Veritzen, and I knew that once more I had offended, even if slightly, the sensitive ego, of Olga's temperamental husband, Philip.

But his voice held no nuance of annoyance when at last he answered me.

"Of course," he said, "Immediately."

Then I heard him speaking away from the receiver.

"Olga, my love," I heard him saying. "Madge wishes to speak to you," and the next instant the rich voice of the former Queen of Transvania came to my ears.

"Madge, my dear!" she said. "I do hope this means that we are going to see Mary."

"It does," I told her. "But I know you will not be offended if I make a request of you."

"Of course not," she answered quickly. "Tell me at once what you wish."

"That you and Olina come up as quickly as you possibly can," I said. "Mary is so anxious to see you."

I put aside the thought of Mary's far greater desire to get at her lines as soon as her "darling in-laws should be out of the way," although I knew that the gibe did not reflect Mary's true feelings toward Olga and Olina, both of whom she genuinely loves.

Just Wakened

"She has just wakened," I went on, "and she is in splendid condition. Indeed, she has been improving by the second ever since morning. But Katharine does not wish her to get impatient over anything today."

"Of course not," Olga said understandingly. "I shudder to think of what that poor child has been through, and am so rejoiced it has all ended so happily. Will you tell Katharine that we will be down in five minutes?"

"Of course, and that will be wonderful," I said. "Good-bye now."

I went back to the bedroom with my message, and Mary smiled at me.

"I'll bet you hurried them up," she said sapiently, "and that Dad didn't like his regal darling to be spurred even gently."

"I hurried them," I told her, "and I don't know whether your father-in-law aproved or not. I didn't wait to find out."

Mary giggled, and Katharine spoke with authority.

"I think it would be better for you to see your guests in the sitting room," she said. "You've graduated from the bedroom today."

"Praise be to Allah! Allah be praised!" Mary intoned, with a fetching little Oriental genuflection.

Then Katharine put her hand beneath her elbow, propelled her into the sitting room and installed her in an easy chair. I followed, and when Katharine had put a chair for me, she walked to the door.

"This is going to have no savor of a sick room," she said. "The nurse is going to take a few minutes off. If you want me, Madge, I'll be in my own apartment. Until then, please carry on."

Katharine Leaves

"Look here!" Mary protested, but Katharine made a smiling little moue at her, and went out of the door before she could finish the sentence.

"I like that!" Mary said indignantly. "Does Aunt Katharine think I regard her as a nurse?"

"Not for an instant," I told her. "She simply does not wish you to see too many people at a time, and she knows I am nearer to the Veritzens than she is."

"I suppose she's right," Mary said resignedly, and then the knocker sounded, and when I went to the door, Olga and Olina stood there, their faces bright with affectionate interest.

"My, darling daughter!" Olga said, as she went up to Mary's chair and took her "step-daughter-in-law" into her arms. "I am so glad for you! And how well you are looking! Isn't she, Olina?"

"Simply tops," her daughter, Olina, said, embracing Mary when her mother released her.

"You're a fraud!" she told Mary with teasing eyes. "I don't believe you've been sick a simple day. You'd be Miss America in any contest right now."

"Gramercy for the apple sauce, 'Lina," Mary said. "But stop talking about me and talk about yourself for awhile. What are you doing with yourself these days? You haven't let your harp practice go, have you, because if there isn't a scene where you play the harp in this next play, the whole thing can go to Tophet, for all I care."

SUGAR TOLL

By International News Service

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Sweet-toothed British Columbians are giving Canadian customs officials at the British Columbia-Washington State border a "hard time" these days. Since sugar rationing was lifted in the U. S., Canadians have been flocking south to buy sugar. It costs 5½ cents more a pound in the U. S.—but that hasn't deterred them. Canadian customs men have been busy checking these sugar importations and assessing the Canadians an additional 3 cents a pound duty.

The word mascot originated in Provence and Gascony and meant something which brought luck to a household.
